

Wilmington prepares for flu season

Seasonal and H1N1 clinics coming soon

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Roll up your sleeves, Wilmington, and get ready for a shot in the arm. Literally. Its time for the seasonal flu shot again, but this year, more than one shot may be necessary.

Wilmington Health Director Shelley Newhouse and Dr. Jane Williams Vale, Board of Health member, appeared before Selectmen Monday to discuss seasonal and H1N1, otherwise known as "swine," flu vaccinations and precautions.

This year Wilmington will offer at least three kinds of flu clinics: a school-based clinic aimed at seasonal flu for school-aged children, a town wide flu clinic, and an H1N1 flu clinic later in the season.

Seasonal flu kills an estimated 100,000 people every year in the US, but fears about H1N1 have raised widespread concern about the flu in the general public, the health professions, and in the media.

"Except for the initial cases in Mexico, the virus is mild," said Vale. "H1N1 is mild but those at higher risk need the vaccine. There will still be deaths among those without risk factors."

Risk factors include heart failure, diabetes, asthma, and other chronic illnesses.

"If you should get the seasonal vaccine, then you should also get the H1N1 vaccine," added Vale.

Clinic Information

The first clinic is scheduled for September 23 from 12:00-3:00 p.m. at the Boutwell School. Aimed at children in grades Kindergarten through 12, or roughly 5- to 18-years old. Parents can bring their kids in for a free seasonal flu vaccine.

"This is something the town has never done before," said Newhouse. "We are trying to get as many vaccinated as we can."

For this clinic the town received a special allotment of 375 doses from the Department of Public Health. So far, that's all the town has received of the seasonal flu shot.

Since 375 doses would cover only about 10 percent of the school population, parents

Woburn Street paving scheduled

Motorists advised to seek alternate routes of travel

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Woburn Street will be resurfaced from Lowell Street to the Woburn City line starting Thursday, September 17, thus imposing temporary traffic restrictions in the area.

According to Town Manager, Mike Caira, reading from a statement issued by the Department of Public Works, Woburn Street will be "restricted to one-way traffic along various sections of the roadway, depending on where paving crews are working." Paving should take three days to complete.

The paving includes a "curb to curb leveling course" which officials believe will improve the surface in time for the winter weather. Granite curbing will be added on both sides of Woburn Street from Lowell Street to Eames Street after the leveling course is completed. Finished sidewalks are also on the menu for the street, on the west side of Woburn Street also from Lowell Street to Eames Street.

Town officials expect to complete the work this fall and two-lane traffic will continue during the curbing and sidewalk operations.

Caira asks that residents familiarize themselves with alternative routes along Woburn Street, such as Industrial Way and Eames Street. The statement also calls for motorists to obey the directives of police details and detour signs during construction.

The final paving layer will go down in spring 2010 from Lowell Street to Woburn's city line.

Residents with questions are encouraged to contact the DPW at 978-658-4481.

A look back at Wilmington of yesteryear...

Wilmington's Garden of Eden

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - Have you ever been to the Garden of Eden?

This name, taken from the Biblical story of Adam and Eve, was applied to an area in southwest Wilmington, between Chestnut Street and Burlington. The area has particular historical significance in that Mill Road, which runs through it, was the first road in Wilmington. It literally contains the earliest history of Wilmington.

The Garden of Eden was generally an area between Chestnut Street and Wood Hill in Burlington, apparently so named for its diversity of plant life. In this area could be found plants not to be found anywhere else in Middlesex County. Have you ever seen a yellow or a black birch? There were such trees in the Garden of Eden.

It is not known who named the area, but the Garden of Eden name apparently goes back to Colonial times. Much of the area that became Wilmington was called Goshen, when it was part of Woburn. It was not uncommon for Biblical names to be used for places in the British colonies.

Like the story of Adam and Eve, Wilmington's Garden of Eden involves an apple, or more specifically, a variety of apple. The Baldwin Apple has also been called the Butters Apple, the Woodpecker Apple or the Pecker Apple. There is a stone monument at the side of the road on Chestnut Street, the Baldwin Apple Monument, next to the Butters Farm.

The first settler in the area was William Butter, a Scotsman. Captured by the forces of Cromwell in the English Civil Wars, he had been sold as an indentured servant to a Puritan family in Woburn about 1651. After he gained his freedom, he headed over Wood Hill and down a path that became Mill Road, the oldest road in Wilmington. Butter built his house at the end, which is now the corner of Mill Road and Chestnut Street. Mill Road technically did not start at Chestnut Street — it ended there.

Until about 30 years ago, Mill Road remained unpaved, a quarter mile dirt road in the woods with very few houses. About 1980, Northeastern Development Co., Joseph Langone and Richard Stuart, built several houses on Mill Road, after building and

Tech's star keeps rising

Shawsheen Valley Tech boasts impressive MCAS scores

BILLERICA - As Superintendent-Director Charles Lyons reflects on the test results of his vocational-technical students, he can hardly conceal his enthusiasm for Shawsheen Valley Technical High School's Class of 2011—whose Spring 2009 MCAS performance ranks superior not only to the scores of all previous Shawsheen classes but also to the scores of all current vocational-technical eleventh-graders throughout the state.

Observing this recent achievement as the continuation of a ten-year trend, Lyons asserts: "These data confirm the high quality of instruction as well as the clear commitment to academic excellence at this school. I am extremely proud of both our faculty and students."

In each component of the exam—chemistry, biology, mathematics and English language arts—Shawsheen Tech students improved their overall mean score, significantly increased the number of students in the Advanced and Proficient categories, and satisfied the Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) requirements.

Doctor Robert Kanellas, the Director of Academic Programs at Shawsheen Tech, reacted positively to each accomplishment.

"I am happy with the improvement of the students in both English language arts and mathematics, and I'm happy with the curriculum changes that we made in biology to improve the test performance of those students," said Kanellas. "I'm happy with the extraordinary scores of our honors chemistry students, and - most importantly - I'm pleased that we continue to convincingly satisfy all AYP criteria."

Ninety-one percent of the 333 Shawsheen sophomores who tested in the English language arts scored in either the Advanced or Proficient range, an increase of ten percent from the previous year and more than 20 percent from 2007. The mean (average) score of the group improved to 252, another number that has increased paving it. Subsequently, two subdivisions have been built off Mill Road.

Butter is believed to have been the first white settler in what is now Wilmington, although during his life, his house was in Woburn. He settled there about 1665, possibly earlier.

Will Butter's son, William Butters, built a house about 1682 on Chestnut Street, a house that is still standing and was recently bought by the town of Wilmington. He was an early proponent of a separate town and became a selectman in the newly formed town in 1730. He died in 1746, at about age 80.

On the hillside of Wood Hill were the remains of the Clapp mill, a sawmill that was active for some 200 years until the late 1800s. The timbers for the steeple of the Congregational Church were milled there in 1874.

Near the end of Mill Road was the farm of Jimmy Butters, a great grandson of Will Butter. Born in 1746, he served in Capt. Timothy Walker's company of Minutemen, one of 14 Butters men who served as Minutemen. He later lived in the present Butters Farm, and was there when the tree that became known as the Baldwin Apple became known. He was also the man who swapped a pair of oxen for a wife, down in Winchester, reported many years ago in Ripley's Believe It or Not. He died in 1838 at age 93.

John Addison, an Englishman, bought the Jimmy Butters place some time after the Civil War. He had seven daughters. Nina Kincaid, who married Herb Barrows (profiled recently in the Town Crier), was the granddaughter of Carrie Addison. Nina's father was Bill Kincaid, who lived in that house after Mr. Addison had passed on. Kincaid was the paymaster and timekeeper at the Harriman's Tannery.

About the time of the Civil War, a man named Solon Johnson lived in the original Will Butter house. He had a son, William, born about the time of the Mexican War. William was also nicknamed Solon.

William committed suicide in 1894. He sat down in the road and ate stones.

Nina Barrows had a letter about the death, written by Carrie Addison. It said that Carrie had seen the stones the suicide victim had eaten, and that the minister thought Johnson was temporarily insane. It didn't say anything about William's (Solon's) last days. The father, who was in his late 80's, outlived his son by about six months.

Maria Avery, who lived in the Samuel Butters house, had a sharp tongue. Old Solon would ask where Solon, his son, had gone. Maria would say, "Gone to Hell! Where do you think?"

The Country Club

In the early 1960's, dairy farmer Millard Pipes built a golf course on his farm, south of Mill Road. Pipes owned the Bell Farm Dairy, opposite Hillside Way. The Garden of Eden Country Club opened in 1962. Pipes built nine holes, all on the west side of Chestnut Street, and spoke of plans to build another nine on the east side. He proceeded at a slow pace, doing much of the work himself. That didn't please his business partners, and they threw him out. They changed the name of the course to the Eden Country Club.

Mr. Pipes, though, had the last laugh. He had retained title to the land where two of the holes had been built. He sold the land to the Jackson Brothers, who built houses there. The country club had to change its layout to replace those two holes. The country club took on a mortgage and built a clubhouse. But the mortgage came back to bite them, and the country club was foreclosed in 1978.

The property was leased to a church for a couple of years, and services were held in the clubhouse.

It was then sold to Langone, who has owned the property for many years, but has not built any homes on the former country club.

This painting of the Jimmy Butters farm in the Garden of Eden, shows John Addison, holding a scythe and talking with Mr. Butters. Painted in the late 1800s by N. Rudd, it was presented to the town by Charles Addison Eastbrook.

That mouthful of initials stands for "qualified personal residence trust," a way to save on estate taxes and give your home to your children well before you die. The trust enables you to give away your principal residence or a vacation home and still live there, depending on the term of the trust.

At the end of the trust term, the children own the property and its value is out of your estate. Any appreciation in its value during the trust, or after, is out of your estate, too. If the donors want to stay in the house, and the children agree, the parents must pay fair-market rent to the new owners. (The IRS insists on that to accept the fact of the QPRT.)

If you die during the trust term, the house returns to your estate. If you decide to sell the house during the trust's term, you retain the right to exclude the usual $250,000 or $500,000 of profit from capital gains tax.

Representative Jim Miceli and Senator Bruce Tarr played hosts to the third grade classes from the Shawsheen and Woburn Street Schools during the last school year. The third grades traditionally visit the State House as part of their spring curriculum. Also in the pictures are the parents and teachers who accompanied the classes. Rep. Miceli said, "One of the most enjoyable parts of my job as your state representative is meeting and visiting with the young people in my district. I look forward to their annual visits."

Public Safety Commissioner Gatzunis to discuss trench safety at MHA seminar during 30th annual NE Public Works Expo

Thomas Gatzunis, Commissioner of the Department of Public Safety for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will be among the seminar speakers at the upcoming 30th annual New England Public Works Expo sponsored by the Massachusetts Highway Association (MHA) on September 30th and October 1st. Commissioner Gatzunis will discuss the new Trench Safety Regulations at the 10 a.m. session on Thursday, October 1st, the second day of the two-day show which will be held at the Wachusett Trade Center in Fitchburg, Massachusetts.

The regulations that went into effect in March 2009, require all excavators, including municipal agencies and departments, to obtain a trench permit prior to the creation of a trench made for construction-related purposes in accordance with Chapter 82A of the Massachusetts General Laws. The law also requires municipalities to establish a permitting authority for the purpose of issuing permits.

In addition to Commissioner Gatzunis, the MHA-sponsored New England Public Works Expo will feature three additional free educational sessions that will focus on Workplace Safety and Occupational Health Programs for municipal employees. Communities with employees attending the three workshop seminars will be eligible to receive MHA rewards credit.

Nancy Comeau Pearce, CIH, Workplace Safety and Health Program Supervisor for the Massachusetts Division of Occupational Safety will present Personal Protection Equipment at 10 a.m. and Confined Space Awareness at 1 p.m., on Wednesday, September 30th.

Bridget McGuinness, worker health trainer and lead work zone safety trainer at The New England Consortium at the University of Massachusetts Lowell, will present Workzone Safety on Thursday, October 1st at 1 p.m. All three workshops are eligible for the MHA credits.

According to MHA Expo chairman Irving Priest, the Expo is New England's premiere construction equipment and trade show featuring more than 100 local and regional companies. This is a great opportunity for municipalities and private companies to come and see the latest in new equipment for the industry.

The show will also feature a complimentary barbecue for all attendees and vendors, a vendor appreciation reception, and antique equipment displays.

Among the highlight of the show will be the state finals of the Snow Plow Rodeo which kicks off the show on Wednesday morning at 8 a.m. Teams from each of the seven county associations will compete in the event which includes the snowplow slalom event, compressor back-up and a written exam.

The vendor exhibits will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesday, September 30th and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Thursday, October 1st. Raffles will also be held throughout both days.

Admission is free and complimentary tickets are available through Expo vendors and MHA county associations, as well as through local public works departments. More than 50,000 admission tickets have been distributed to show vendors.

A limited number of vendor booths are still available. Information about vendor spaces can be obtained by contacting JC Marketing Associates at 781-245-7070 or by visiting the website at www.nepublicworksexpo.org. Vendor lists are available on the show website with a link to participating companies.

For additional information about the 2009 New England Public Works Expo, call Ann or Carolyn at 781-245-7070, or visit the show's website at www.nepublicworksexpo.org.

Letters to the editor

Good food, and for a good cause

Dear Editor,
Again this year, the St. William's Mens' Club will be running a Spaghetti Supper to raise funds for the Community Pantry. As I'm sure you are well aware, with the economy being what it is, the demand on food pantries both here in Tewksbury and around the State has been great. It is becoming increasingly difficult for the pantries to keep the shelves stocked to extend a hand to the ever-greater number of clients. The supper is scheduled for Saturday September 26, 2009 from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the St. William's Parish Center. All proceeds will be donated to the Pantry. Ticket prices are $7.00 for adults, $5.00 and for Children/Seniors and $20.00 for a family of four. If you can make a donation over and above the ticket price, it would certainly be greatly appreciated. If you need tickets please call me at 978-500-1662. Tickets are also available at St. William's Rectory, Town Hall and the Senior Center.

Please make all checks payable to:

Community celebrates the life of Justin O'Neil

Dear Editor,
We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude for your continued support of the Justin Andrew O'Neil Memorial Scholarship fund. It is overwhelming to see how many people still come out to remember and celebrate Justin's life. Without the help and support of all of you this event could not take place and we certainly would not be as successful in raising the enormous amount that we do to award several scholarships to so many deserving Wilmington students each year. There are no words that can express how much your time and generosity means to us.

Wilmington Cooks

by Paula Murphy

Many thanks to all of you who sent me crock pot recipes, even though they came anonymously! Between sports, school, and work, life is so busy that crock pot cooking is a real stress reliever. Nothing beats coming home knowing that the house smells great and supper is ready.

Pork Chops with Creamy Mushroom Gravy

(my crock pot is big, and this doubled easily.) Our anonymous recipe giver suggests that to make this a super easy meal, Diner's Choice microwavable mashed potatoes and a bag of frozen peas round this out nicely

- 4 thick cut bone-in pork chops
- 1 can Cream of Mushroom soup
- 1/3 cup red wine

- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 can sliced or chopped mushrooms, drained
- ground black pepper, to taste

Place the pork chops in the bottom of your crock pot. Stir the mushroom soup, mushrooms, red wine, garlic, and pepper together in a bowl; and pour over the pork chops. Cover and cook on low for 6 to 8 hours.

Whole Chicken in a Crock Pot

- (Laurie Gullotto)
- 1 large roasting chicken, cleaned and washed (with pop-up timer if possible)
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 1 tsp white pepper
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- 1/2 tsp black pepper
- 4 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp.paprika
- 1 tsp.cayenne pepper
- 1 tsp.onion powder

Combine spices in a small bowl and rub mixture all over chicken. You can put it in a resealable plastic bag and put it in the fridge over night if you are preparing it the night before. When chicken is ready to cook, put chopped onion in bottom of crock pot, and add chicken. Cook of low for 4 to 8 hours.

Note: no liquid is needed, the chicken will make it's own juices. Usually the crock pot is half full of liquid at the end. The pop-up timer works wonderful in this recipe.

Laurie advises that if she's planning to make soup with the leftovers, she adds in carrots and celery so that the soup is nearly made. If she's planning a chicken pot pie, she'll throw in cut up carrots and potatoes.

Drunken French Dip

- 4 pound rump roast
- 1 10.5 ounce can beef broth

- 1 10.4 once can French onion soup
- 1 can or bottle of beer
- 6 sub rolls
- Butter

Trim any fat from the roast and place it in your crock pot. Add the soups and beer, and cook on low for 8 hours. Split rolls, spread with butter, and toast in oven. Slice meat thinly and pile on rolls. Serve with liquid from the pot for dipping. This is the second recipe where Diner's Choice microwavable mashed potatoes were suggested to round the menu out. I'm putting them on my shopping list...

I received requests this week for Spanish and Chinese recipes. Are there any out there? Please send them to paula.wilmingtoncooks@hotmail.com.

Tewksbury cooks are welcome, too!

Wilmington Community Fund Benefit Auction

Sunday, September 20. Viewing 11:00 a.m., with Auction promptly at 1:00 p.m.

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Community Fund (WCF) Benefit Auction will be a fun-filled event just in time for you to stock up on great items for holiday giving. Don't miss out!!! Come join in on Sunday, September 20th. Red Sox and U2 tickets would make a great early present for anyone.

Check out the Ryan Auction website to view some donated items. So many items are arriving it is not possible to list everything on the website. There will be lots of great unadvertised items. Come early to view and get ready to bid! Giant Glass (1-800-54-GIANT) has donated two tickets in a private luxury box with food and beverage included at Fenway Park for October 4th - 1:35 p.m. Red Sox vs. Cleveland Indians (estimated value $800). Aleppo Shrine has donated 11 tickets to Boston Derby

Dames Roller Derby for Saturday, October 10th 5:00 pm ($16.00 value per ticket). And, just in time for U2 fans, a generous donation of two tickets in Club Seating at Gillette Stadium in Foxboro ("best seats") for U2 concert on Monday, September 21st at 7:00 p.m. (value of $550.00). The Wilmington 4th of July Committee has donated two tickets for every dinner and a preferred parking pass (priceless) for the week during the 2010 Fourth of July celebration.

Funds raised will help families that have fallen victim to tough times as well as supplement items for the Food Pantry. WCF is accepting various items for the auction. Please check your basements, attics and garages for useable items to donate. Vintage and antique items are greatly appreciated. There will also be flea market items that will be available for early purchase, as well as during the auction.

Donations can still be dropped off at the Food Pantry, 142 Chestnut Street (formerly the Old South School) this Saturday between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon, or at Ryan Auction Company, 355 Middlesex Avenue, Unit 11 (behind Registry of Motor Vehicles) between 12-noon and 4:00 p.m. For pickup and more information call 978-988-2222 or 978-658-7425 and check out <http://www.auctionzip.com/MA-Auctioneers/39311.html> and www.commfund.org websites.

Team Hope: Walk for HD

For the past twelve years, the Lowell Health Care Center has been sponsoring the Kevin Ganley Walk to raise awareness about Huntington's disease. The walk is dedicated to Ganley a former resident of the Lowell Health Care Center who lost his battle with Huntington's disease at the age of 33.

This is the 2nd annual walk for TEAM PA in the Kevin Ganley Walk for a Cure for Huntington's Disease. The Carrillo/DeLucia families of Wilmington and Tewksbury walk in memory of Patrick-Anthony Drossos, a 15 year-old-boy (of Gina and Michael DeLucia) who lost his battle against the juvenile form of the disease last year. Any donations would greatly be accepted at www.firstgiving.com/ginaampmichaeldelucia4

Huntington's disease is an inherited brain disorder resulting in loss of both mental and physical capabilities.

More than 30,000 people in the US are diagnosed with Huntington's disease (HD), and their siblings and children have a 50% chance of developing it. To date, there is no effective treatment or cure.

The walk helps fight the disease by raising needed funds to support people in the local community through support groups, educational seminars and research initiatives.

This year's walk is scheduled for Saturday, September 19, 2009, rain or shine at the Lowell Heritage State Park, Sampus Pavilion, on Route 113 in Lowell.

Registration begins at 9 a.m., with the walk at 10 a.m. There will be food, music, and fun for all!

For more information, contact Suzanne Imbriglio at the Lowell Health Care Center at 978-454-5644, or visit the HDSEA web site at: hdsea.org.

Vassallo named to Union College Dean's List

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (Grassroots Newswire) - Michael S. Vassallo, a member of the Union College Class of 2009, has been named to the 2008/2009 Dean's List.

Vassallo, a resident of Wilmington, is a 2005 graduate of Wilmington High School.

In order to be named to the Dean's List, a student must have completed three courses during each of the three terms with no fewer than eight courses in the index. He or she must have maintained an overall index of 3.5 or greater.

Union, an independent college for men and women of high academic promise and strong personal motivation, offers academic programs in the humanities, the social sciences, the natural sciences, engineering and computer science. There are approximately 2,150 undergraduates. Admission is highly competitive. Founded in 1795 as the first college chartered by the Regents of New York, Union was one of the first non-denominational colleges in the country.

Looking for used books?

WILMINGTON - Readers, students/parents, collectors! Have you visited the Friends of the Wilmington Library's used bookstore - Book Store Next Door (to the Wilmington Library, 183 Middlesex Avenue lately)?

The Book Store Next Door is open every Saturday from 10-4 and Sunday from noon-3. Now through October, it will be open Wednesday nights from 4-7. You'll have over three rooms chocked full of fiction, children's, and non-fiction to explore, with prices ranging from 3-for-$1 romances to $4 for CD audio books.

Now that schools are back in session and fall schedules are getting established, find some time to pick up things on your reading lists. In anticipation of the huge mini-series on the National Parks, airing on public TV, September 27, check out some places you've not visited.

The store has plenty of books on indoor gardening now and the fall sports are upon us. Think collages, party favors - look things over to get new authors or ideas! Bring your unsold books to us after your yard sales. Please contact Leslie Dietrich, 978-657-6536 or lesd4@verizon.net for questions about pick-ups or volunteering. Remember, your donations are tax deductible and all profits benefit the programs of the Wilmington Memorial Library. Thank you for your donations and your patronage.

Upholstery Workshop with Wilmington Recreation

WILMINGTON - Just in time for the holidays - give new life to an old piece of furniture by learning to reupholster. You will learn to tie springs, re-pad and put on new fabric. This program will be held in the Wilmington Town Hall Auditorium, Thursdays, October 1 - November 19, 2009 from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. Each week you will bring your project back and forth to class, so you can work on it both with the instructor and at home.

The cost for the eight-week workshop is $65. A supply list will be given as your project progresses. Pre-registration is required. Remember the motto, "If you can carry it, you can bring it!"

To register for this or other Recreation Department programs stop by Town Hall, Room 8. For more information, call (978) 658 - 4270.

Delicious Drawings: Dinner/Dessert Basket Raffle

WILMINGTON - During the month of September, the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library is raffling off a dinner-and-dessert-themed gift basket valued at $150+. Raffle tickets are available at the library's Circulation Desk for $2 each or 3 for $5.

The gift basket includes donated prizes from local restaurants, including gift cards from Chili's, Cold Stone Creamery, Lindt Chocolate, Olive Garden, Texas Roadhouse, and TGI Friday's. The gift basket also includes a bottle of wine (donated by Elia's Country Store), wine glasses, wine decanter, wine bottle drop collar, wine glass charms, ice cream spoons, table runner, and cloth napkins. The gift basket is topped off with several dinner and dessert cookbooks donated by the Book Store Next Door.

This fundraiser is a part of "Bon Appétit for Your Library," a series of food-themed fundraisers held this summer to benefit the Wilmington Memorial Library's children's programming. "Bon Appétit for Your Library" includes "Delicious Drawings" fundraisers with a breakfast-themed gift basket raffle in July, a lunch-themed gift basket raffle in August, and a dinner-themed gift basket raffle in September.

"Bon Appétit for Your Library" is organized by the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library, a well-respected local non-profit organization dedicated to raising funds and awareness for Wilmington's public library.

The Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library has a long tradition of supporting library children's programming. The Friends was the largest sponsor of library children's programs, sponsoring 25 events for children in 2008, including concerts, plays, storytelling, magic shows, and puppet shows. The Friends provided prizes and/or refreshments at more than 50 additional library children's programs last year, including book discussions and writing programs. Attendance at 2008 Friends-sponsored library children's programs exceeded 1,600.

VA officials warn of scam

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Officials at the Department of Veterans Affairs are warning people not to give credit card numbers over the phone to callers claiming to be updating VA prescription information.

Kevin Secor, a Veterans Service Organizations liaison with the office of the secretary of Veterans Affairs, sent an e-mail recently that outlined the scam.

"I have received many reports that veterans are being contacted by 'Patient Care Group' representing that they are helping administer VA prescriptions and stating that the pharmacy billing procedures have changed and they are therefore requesting veteran credit card numbers for prescription payments in advance of filling their prescriptions," Mr. Secor wrote. "This is false. VA does not call veterans asking to disclose personal financial information over the phone. VA has not changed its processes for dispensing prescription medicines."

Anyone who receives a call from someone claiming to work for the Patient Care Group who is seeking a credit card number should simply hang up.

Veterans with questions about VA services should contact the nearest VA medical center or call toll-free 877-222-8387.

For all of you who miss the bumps, ruts and potholes of Lowell St take a ride up Woburn St to Eames St. Out of sight, out of mind, Shame on the Highway Dept

Wilmington

Now that you mention it, he doesn't just have a better office, he has a whole building! What gives?

Wilmington

Just a thank you to the Wilmington Police Department for their apprehension of the suspected house-burglars that have been a problem to our town. Great job as usual.

Wilmington

BIG thumbs down to Wilmington School Bus transportation. Kindergarten students at the Wildwood school are waiting up to 20-30 minutes after dismissal for their bus to arrive at the Wildwood before they board the bus to go home. My child has not been home in under 1 hour since school began, a trip that would normally take 5 minutes!!!! Somebody please help!!!!

Wilmington

Thumbs down to the Tewksbury fireman who used a firetruck to run personal errands to the Everclear Pool store on Saturday afternoon.

Tewksbury

Thank you to the Tewksbury Police, Dr. McGrath and Principal Weir for their proper handling of a bomb threat on Tuesday at the Wynn Middle School. You did your best to ensure the safety of our 7th & 8th graders and this parent is grateful.

Tewksbury

I would like to give a big thumbs down to the people who decided to eliminate a bus from the Wildwood. No five year old should have to wait two hours to get home from school.

Wilmington

I would like to put in a good word for First Class Auto School located in Wilmington. It is one of the better schools. Our daughter and several of her friends went to First Class and had a very good experience. Debra's staff was very professional along with years of experience.

To the "other" driving school (located in Wilmington) the town is BIG ENOUGH for two schools. Please stop spreading rumors about the other driving schools!

Wilmington

Anyone who denies Veterans and their families the respect they deserve to conduct their business with dignity and privacy is no friend of our men and women who gave so much in service to our country. Have you no shame? Don't ever forget. If you love your freedom thank a veteran...and support them when they need our help!

Wilmington

Big thumbs down for Wilmington school transportation system. Due to inefficiencies or poor scheduling my 5-year-old son, along with many of his classmates, has been picked up AFTER the school day is scheduled to begin and dropped off an average of 1 hour and 15 minutes AFTER school is scheduled to be let out for the entire first week of school. Keep in mind this is a bus load of 5-year-old kindergarten children. This needs to be fixed.

Wilmington

First of all, I am appalled that the Town Crier would even print "WTF." However, my main point is - if that person were a veteran with a disability trying to get approved through the Veterans Administration for compensation/benefits, they would understand what a value our Veterans Agent is to this community. Lou Cimaglia helped my husband through all the bureaucratic red tape and paperwork to get his disability compensation approved in less than 4 months, when our friend did it on his own and it took him over 3 years. Did you ever see Lou's former office? It was the size of a bathroom right next to the mail drop slot in the Town Hall. Mr. Caira has a perfectly nice office and a staff who assists him.

(editor's note: The editorial staff did indeed discuss the use of the acronym in question prior to publication. It is not uncommon to see expletives in print, but with key letters of the word blocked out by asterisks. We considered the above referenced initials to be far less suggestive than that accepted practice.)

Annual Art Festival

TEWKSBURY - The Annual Art Festival will be held in Tewksbury on September 25 and 26 at the Wynn Middle School.

This event is sponsored by the Tewksbury Community of Artists and, in part, by the Tewksbury Local Cultural Council.

Mixed media and judged show with ribbons awarded on Friday night during a private reception for artists and their guests. A second set of ribbons will be awarded by popular vote from the public on Saturday afternoon.

For more information, please visit www.tewksbury.info/tca and click on Events.

St. William Parish

Family Movie Night

TEWKSBURY - Back by popular demand! If you missed it the first time, be sure to mark your calendar for Saturday, September 26, at 7:00 pm. Due to the large number of requests, St. William Parish in Tewksbury will be re-showing "Come What May" in the lower church.

"Come What May" is a powerful movie about a college student and a seemingly impossible court argument. If he argues what he truly believes, he stands to lose the most important competition of his life and the support of his mother. If he softens his stance, he might win the coveted title, but lose the heart of his teammate. "Come What May" is a vivid reminder that choosing what is right is never easy, but it is always worth the cost. For more information on the movie and to view a trailer, go to www.comewhatmaythemovie.com.

This movie is appropriate for all ages, but a supervised children's movie in the next room for young children who may be more interested in seeing something else will be available.

Admission is by free-will donation only. For more info, contact Eileen Wood at 978-851-1304 or info@catholicquest.org.

What is Christianity all about anyway?

WILMINGTON - Perhaps you went to church as a kid and stopped going as you grew older? Maybe you had a bad experience in church and you just found it boring? Or maybe you've been turned off by some of the scandals that have hit the larger church over the last few decades? Or maybe you are just confused by all the different religions out there? Or perhaps you are just wondering what all the fuss is about Jesus and you just want to understand better?

If you find any of the above questions intriguing, then you might want to try the Alpha Course. The Alpha course is about asking these or any other questions you may have. But it's more. It starts with a great meal where you have the opportunity to get to know the other people attending the course. You listen to a series of talks about various aspects of Christianity. There's desert and then an hour long discussion covering any area of God, life and the Bible.

Over eight million people have taken the Alpha Course worldwide. It started at Holy Trinity Brompton Church (an Anglican Church) in London, England in the early 1990's. The course is being run in homes, schools, universities, military posts and prisons and is supported by churches of every different and major denomination.

The course is being offered here in Wilmington, starting on Wednesday, September 23rd at the Abundant Life Christian Center, located on the town common. It starts at 6:30 pm with a delicious meal and runs until 9:00 pm. The course is completely free to all participants. You can check out the first night with no obligation to come back again. To find out more about the course you can contact the church at 978-658-8584 and ask for Chuck or go to the church's website at www.abundantlifechurch.org. A brochure and a free introductory DVD are available and you are welcome to pick them up at the church Monday through Friday during the day.

Flag Etiquette Standards Of Respect

WILMINGTON - The Flag Code, which formalizes and unifies the traditional ways in which we give respect to the flag, also contains specific instructions on how the flag is not to be used. They are:

The flag should never be dipped to any person or thing. It is flown upside down only as a distress signal.

The flag should not be used as a drapery, or for covering a speaker's desk, draping a platform, or for any decoration in general. Bunting of blue, white and red stripes is available for these purposes. The blue stripe of the bunting should be on the top.

The flag should never be used for any advertising purpose. It should not be embroidered, printed or otherwise impressed on such articles as cushions, handkerchiefs, napkins, boxes, or anything intended to be discarded after temporary use. Advertising signs should not be attached to the staff or halyard.

The flag should not be used as part of a costume or athletic uniform, except that a flag patch may be used on the uniform of military personnel, fireman, policeman and members of patriotic organizations.

The flag should never be placed on it, or attached to it, any mark, insignia, letter, word, number, figure, or drawing of any kind.

The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying, or delivering anything.

When the flag is lowered, no part of it should touch the ground or any other object; it should be received by waiting hands and arms. To store the flag it should be folded neatly and ceremoniously.

The flag should be cleaned and mended when necessary. When a flag is so worn it is no longer fit to serve as a symbol of our country, it should be destroyed by burning in a dignified manner.

Worn flags may be dropped off at the Town Hall or the Wilmington Post Office.

ST. JUDE'S NOVENA

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and praised throughout the world now and forever, Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help the hopeless, pray for us.

Say this prayer nine times a day, by the 8th day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. My prayers have been answered.

9/16/09 G.S.

A PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(never known to fail)

O Most beautiful Flower of Mount Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this my request. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother.

O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart, to succor me in this request; there are none that can withstand your power.

O, show me herein you are my Mother. O Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to Thee. (3 times)

Sweet Mother, I place this request in your hands. (3 times)

Say for 3 consecutive days and publish. God Bless

Arone Jiu-Jitsu Academy Grand Opening Saturday

TEWKSBURY - The public is invited to an afternoon of food, fresh juice, free demonstrations at the grand opening of Arone Jiu-Jitsu Academy at 1215 Main St, Unit 113 in Tewksbury on Saturday September 19 at 2 p.m.

Rich Arone, a 36 year old father of two and one more on the way, has been training in the art of Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu for over 15 years. He first received his blue belt from Royce Gracie back in 1998 and has competed in several tournaments for over a period of 10 years. He has since been instructing in various academies in MA and NH as well as participating in seminars with law enforcement and military personnel.

In 2006 Rich received his purple belt from Ryon Gracie after having gone through several grueling training sessions at the Gracie Jiu Jitsu Academy in Torrance, CA and in July 2008 he received his brown belt from Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu black belt Scott Lewis, which is a great achievement in Martial Arts.

Rich's dream of opening his own Jiu-Jitsu academy has finally come to fruition after years of training and instructing. He is passionate in his quest to continue helping the community and law enforcement agencies develop their mental and physical potential as well as building self confidence by knowing how to protect themselves through Martial Arts training.

Wilmington Town Clean-Up Day Rain date September 19

WILMINGTON - Reminder that the rain date for the Town Clean-up Day is September 19 from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., meeting at Whitefield School. The Conservation Commission is seeking volunteers to help beautify Wilmington's parks and streams by removing man-made debris.

Commission will provide work gloves - on a first come, first serve basis - and trash bags. Please bring hip boots, if you have them.

Help the cause beforehand by letting the Conservation Commission know of any Town-owned parcels and wetland areas that need to be cleaned (plan-cons@town.wilmington.ma.us or 978-658-8238).

A huge thank you to the hearty optimists who braved the drizzle and continued through the rains to clean up several of the Town properties. Thank you as well to Dunkin Donuts (at Main and Richmond Streets) and Demoulas Market Basket for providing refreshments for the volunteers.

Real man stepped up to the plate!

Patrick Duffy, Chelmsford to Join Season 3 of "Dancing with the Realtors"®

WILMINGTON - Patrick Duffy will be participating in Season 3 of Dancing with the Realtors®. Patrick is a new dancer for 2009. Graduating from Bridgewater State College with a Bachelor's degree in Finance in 2004 Patrick spent two years as a life insurance sales representative and later became an executive recruiter for the life insurance industry. Currently Patrick is in the process of starting his own business in the construction industry; and spends his leisure time playing beach-volleyball, golf and working out. Patrick says Dancing with the Realtors® seemed like another good way to keep in shape while helping a worthy cause, Habitat for Humanity. Patrick is looking forward to participating October 8th and hopes you will come to see him foxtrot and swing!

This organization along with the dynamic professional Realtors® Dancing with the Realtors® was created by Linda Covino; and Season 1 took place in the spring of 2007. The show is based on the ABC hit Dancing with the Stars.

In order to dance in the show, dancers must commit to ten ballroom lessons at Studio 665 in Woburn, where they are currently training. This year, newcomers will be dancing the foxtrot and swing, while returning dancers will be learning the salsa and waltz. Billy Costa of TV Diner will be the Celebrity Host, and Susan Wornick of WCVB TV Channel 5, will be the Celebrity Judge. The show will take place at the Burlington Marriott on October 8, 2009. All participants will also have the opportunity to compete in the state finals at the Eastern United States Dancesport Championship January 22nd through the 24th at the Renaissance Boston Waterfront Hotel. The Realtor event will take place the afternoon of January 23rd.

Patrick welcomes your support. If you are interested in attending Dancing with the Realtors® Season 3, sponsoring the event, or donating to Habitat for Humanity through the show, you can contact Patrick at pduffy4181@aol.com

For more information and tickets contact Linda Covino at Linda@lindacovino.com.

Wilmington Recreation Department presents Tot & You Book Review

WILMINGTON - Play and learn with the Wilmington Recreation Dept! A new six-week program for children ages three and four with your favorite Creative Play teacher - Bonnie Leroux - is about to begin. The theme of this new program will be the book "Polar Bear, Polar Bear, What Do You Hear?" by Eric Carle. Pre-readers are encouraged by the easy, repetitive question-answer format of the book. Children are engaged as they imitate the sounds of the different animals.

Each week the class will hear the book, followed by creative activities focused on two animals in the story. Children will learn fun facts about these animals and then create a storybook page about them. At the end of the program, children have created their own picture book to reinforce all that they learned.

Classes will be held in the Town Hall Auditorium on Thursdays, October 1 - November 5 from 12:30 - 1:30 p.m.

Each child must be accompanied by an adult who will participate in different activities with their child. Cost is $60.

To register for this or other Recreation Department programs stop by Town Hall, Room 8.

For more information, call (978) 658 - 4270.

Reading Co-operative Bank History

Julieann Thurlow, President and CEO of Reading Co-operative Bank ing suspensions and cutting interest rates. Internally, all salaries in excess of $1000 were reduced.

The Bank even paid the Co-operative Central Bank nearly $22,000, a large amount at that time, to assist other banks in Massachusetts.

In 1953, the Bank established its cornerstone at 180 Haven Street and then in 1976, the Wilmington office at 352 Middlesex Avenue was constructed. In 2002, The Bank opened its office at 170 Park Street, North Reading, followed by a second office in Wilmington at 230 Lowell Street in 2005.

In 2008, The Bank opened its first office in Woburn at 300 Trade Center. That same year, the Educational Branch at the Reading Memorial High School opened.

"As a community bank, we consider the impact of our decisions and actions, on our customers, employees and on the communities we serve," states Julieann Thurlow, President and CEO of Reading Co-operative Bank.

The Bank has earned a 5-Star Superior rating for financial strength for the last 71 quarters, proving that Responsible Banking is smart business. All Our Deposits are insured in Full. Call us at 781.942.5000 or visit www.readingcoop.com to find out how we can help you reach your financial goals.

On November 22, 1886, a meeting of prominent Reading residents was held to constitute a Corporation to be known as Reading Co-operative Bank.

The Co-operative Banking system enabled workingmen and women to purchase their own homes. In 1900; Reading Co-operative Bank opened its first branch in North Reading, then 28 years later the Bank began collecting deposits in Wilmington.

During the stock market crash many people faced tremendous hardship but not one customer of the Bank ever lost a penny. Due to prudent management practices, the Bank maintained its fiscal health while assisting mortgage holders by waiving fines, grant-

League of Women Voters awarded Public Audit Grant

WILMINGTON - The League of Women Voters Wilmington (LWVW) was awarded a grant from the League of Women Voters Education Fund, one of several grants awarded to Leagues throughout the United States.

The grant enabled the Wilmington League to conduct this past May a Public Documents Audit of various departments within the Town of Wilmington. The goal of the audit was to test the responsiveness of various town departments around information and public record requests. All work was conducted by League volunteers. Serving as project leads for the Audit Committee were Odette Kent and MJ Byrnes.

"With the resurgence of interest in government transparency, we believed that embracing a project around government responsiveness would empower others to want to get involved with their community" commented Christine Woltag, Acting President, for the Wilmington League.

The LWVW is a non-partisan grass roots organization whose mission is to encourage informed participation of citizens in government, and to impact public policies through citizen education and advocacy. The League, founded locally in Wilmington in 1961, and nationally in 1920, is represented at the national, state and local levels.

The Audit design and process consisted of two requesters per document for comparative purposes. All requests were made under Massachusetts Public Records Law. Requests were made in person, by phone, and via email. For the purpose of the Audit, the Committee decided to audit four town departments: The Office of Town Manager, The Board of Health, The Water & Sewer Commission, and The Office of the Building Inspector/ Fire Department. "Although the records requested did not necessarily apply to topics we are actively pursuing in our community, we were interested in seeing how 'responsive' our local government actually was. In most cases, we were happily surprised at the consistency and timeliness within certain departments that we contacted when making our requests," noted Odette Kent, who has over 20 years of League experience, and has served on a town task force in the past.

"Overall, The League was pleased with the results of the audit, and the timely response to all requests. The majority of responses were complete in nature, and those that weren't, were easily acquired through follow up calls," commented MJ Byrnes.

"One departmental head responded within an hour of my request on her blackberry, and this was on a Saturday. You can't get more responsive than that," added Christine Woltag.

The league would like to let citizens know that your right to a public record is presumed, and that you do not need to give a reason as to why you are seeking access to a public record. The Massachusetts Public Record Act (M.G.L. Chapter 66, Section 10) is very similar to the Federal Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), although it only applies to state agencies, municipalities, and legal sub divisions of the Commonwealth & state authorities. Like the FOIA, you can ask for copies of any documents that are considered public that are held by state government, county government, and municipalities. The League recommends that requests be put in writing to avoid confusion about what information is being sought, as well as to create a record if one should need to appeal a response.

The Wilmington League has been staunch advocates in engaging local officials on the topic of government transparency and accountability. Through the years, the LWVW has worked with the Town of Wilmington to present public information forums on the various issues facing the town to educate the citizenry.

The League also hosts "Candidate's Night" each spring, and is looking for members to plan forums for next year's local and state wide races. The League's next meeting will be held Monday, October 5th at the library at 7:30 p.m. The League welcomes and is open to all men and women of voting age. For more information about the League of Women Voters Wilmington, please contact the League at lwvwilmington@comcast.net.

Wilmington Senior Lunches

Week of Sept 21

MONDAY: Stuffed peppers with tomato sauce, roasted potatoes, whole wheat roll, orange juice, cookie.

TUESDAY: Herb roasted chicken, baked potato, carrots, whole wheat bread, peaches

WEDNESDAY: Veal patty parmesan with tomato sauce, pasta, french bread, broccoli, apricots

THURSDAY: Hot turkey sandwich with gravy on whole wheat bread, whipped potato, peas, cranberry sauce, pudding

FRIDAY: Stuffed shells with tomato sauce, green beans, french bread, pineapple

Large, well-balance meals are available to seniors for the price of $1.00. This assures that seniors can get at least one square meal a day, Monday thru Friday. These meals are prepared by West Intermediate School.

Following are two ways to obtain a meal:

Meals on Wheels

This program provides homebound elders of Wilmington with one hot meal five days a week for the minimal cost of one dollar per meal. There are approximately 60-75 meals delivered daily Monday through Friday. The elders not only rely on these meals (most are physically unable to cook), but also on the human contact. The drivers are responsible for reporting to the Senior Center after making deliveries to give an update on the elders they visit. The elders and their families are assured that if there should be a problem during the time of the delivery, the elder will be assisted, and the family will be notified.

All meals are cooked without added salt. The main course is cooked without added sugar. There may be added sugar in deserts only. Meals on Wheels is only available to the home-bound. A signed note from a doctor stating recipient can eat the foods offered is required.

Call 978-657-7595 to request service. Doctors may fax notes to: 978-657-4807.

Congregate Meal Site - West Intermediate School

The seniors that are able to get out have the opportunity to have a hot lunch at the West Intermediate School congregated site. This not only gives them an opportunity to have a hot meal, but a time to see their peers.

If interested, call the center at the number below to make your reservation. Meals are served at 11:00 a.m. at the West Intermediate Cafeteria. Transportation is available for those who don't drive.

Local Realtor Dave O'Neil welcomes Laurie Gullotto (l) and Diana Brown (c) to his team of full time real estate professionals at Century 21.

Gullotto and Brown join the team at Century 21 Starwood

WILMINGTON - Century 21 Starwood in Wilmington, a division of Century 21 Spindler & O'Neil in North Reading, is pleased to welcome the dynamic duo of Laurie Gullotto and Diana Brown to their team of full-time real estate professionals.

Broker Owner, Dave O'Neil comments, "We are always pleased to add to our growing family of Realtors so that we can better serve the community and to participate in events that enhance the lives of its residents, like the Parade of Homes to benefit Easter Seals."

Both Gullotto and Brown bring nearly five years experience as Realtors to the team at Century 21 Starwood. The two Realtors and their husbands are longtime Wilmington residents who are already involved in various community activities.

Brown, who enjoys time as a "Hockey Mom" with her two sons, is currently the Treasurer of the Wilmington Hockey Association. Gullotto, who enjoys spending time with her two daughters, is an Assistant Soccer Coach. Gullotto was also recently featured in the Wilmington Cooks section of the Town Crier.

Anxious to assist new and old friends alike, Diana Brown and Laurie Gullotto are members of the Eastern Middlesex, Massachusetts and National Associations of Realtors as well as the statewide MLS Property Information Network. Feel free to stop by the office to meet them at Century 21 Starwood, 299 Main Street in Wilmington or give them a call at 978-657-8444.

Fifth Annual Wilmington Happy Birthday Half Marathon and 5K Run/Walk

WILMINGTON - This year's annual half marathon and 5k run/walk will be held on Sunday Sept. 27, 2009. The race will start on Waltham Street at 10:00 a.m. and registration will begin at 8:00 a.m.

Last year the committee was proud to be able to give five $1,000 scholarships to the top five students in math, science, English, history, and foreign language. The committee was also able to give to the Wilmington Community Fund/Food Pantry in time for Thanksgiving. This year the committee hopes to be able to give the five scholarships once again, and has chosen TOPS Soccer to receive some of the proceeds.

For more information, visit the website at www.wilmingtonhalfmarathon.tripod.com. A printable registration form is available directly on the website, however if you would like to register online using a credit card, visit www.regrun.com. For groups of 10 or more, special group rates are available - contact Laura Ahern c.ahern@comcast.net or Denise Gentile denantgen@yahoo.com for more information. Donations to the race can be made payable to Wilmington Half Marathon, and may be mailed to Wilmington Half Marathon, P.O. Box 195, Wilmington, MA 01887. If you are a business or company and want to become a sponsor, check the web site for different sponsorship levels.

The race is fun for all ages. Not only are there water stations and a professional timer for the runners, but also face paintings, hot dogs, ice cream and music for everyone! Medals are given out to all the top half marathon and 5k runner winners, in several different categories. All walkers receive a ribbon for the great job they do.

Tell all your friends, relatives and co-workers to mark their calendars and join in for a great day!

I-93 Stakeholder Interviews Residents living near the proposed I-93 interchange - to be located between the Route 125 and Dascomb Road interchanges - received letters recently inviting them to a "stakeholder interview" slated for September 22, 2009 at Wilmington Town Hall. The interviews will be lead by the consultant team on the Tri-Town Interchange Development Area.

Resident participation is important so that the project developers understand how property owners use their property, their needs, and other key issues associated with the project. Caira says that the planning process should last 15 months and "will include extensive community outreach and participation in interviews, design charrettes, and public meetings where the draft and final FBC will be presented."

Tewksbury, Andover, and Wilmington are working to develop a "new, unified zoning district" using form-based zoning code (FBC).

"Form-based codes typically include recommendations on building height, massing, setbacks, and set parameters for streets and streetscape," said a statement issued Monday night from the Town Manager. "The FBC will set a design framework, goals, and objectives for future development that correspond to the Unified Development Vision" prepared last year.

For questions residents are advised to contact Carole Hamilton, Director of Planning and Conservation, at 978-658-8238.

Pat Johnston, Wilmington to Join Season 3 of "Dancing with the Realtors"®

WILMINGTON - Pat Johnston, will be participating in Season 3 of Dancing with The Realtors®. Pat is a returning dancer from Season 2. Pat says, "Linda didn't even have to ask me if I wanted to return to "Dancing with the Realtors" for a second year. I had so much fun the last year and have continued dancing at Studio 665 on a regular basis. Linda knew I would say YES for Season 3. Dance is better than any other exercise I have experienced. You get an overall workout for both your body and mind. I am toning muscles and losing weight, which makes me very happy and healthy. Of course, the #1 benefit is raising funds for a Habitat for Humanity so a well deserving family can have a home and a great life." Pat is looking forward to participating October 8th and hopes to see you at the event. This organization along with the dynamic professional Realtors® Dancing with the Realtors® was created by Linda Covino; and Season 1 took place in the spring of 2007. The show is based on the ABC hit Dancing with the Stars.

In order to dance in the show, dancers must commit to ten ballroom lessons at Studio 665 in Woburn, where they are currently training. This year, newcomers will be dancing the foxtrot and swing, while returning dancers will be learning the salsa and waltz. Billy Costa of TV Diner will be the Celebrity Host, and Susan Wornick of WCVB TV Channel 5, will be the Celebrity Judge. The show will take place at the Burlington Marriott on October 8, 2009. All participants will also have the opportunity to compete in the state finals at the Eastern United States Dancesport Championship January 22nd to the 24th 2010 at the Renaissance Boston Waterfront Hotel. The Realtor event will take place in the afternoon of January 23rd.

Pat welcomes your support. If you are interested in attending Dancing with the Realtors® Season 3, sponsoring the event, or donating to Habitat for Humanity through the show, you can contact Pat at patj@meetingworks.net

Town prepares for flu season

are encouraged to "avail themselves of other avenues to obtain the vaccine," said Town Manager Mike Cair.

In the past, most seasonal flu clinics were geared first toward seniors. This year the DPH issued a directive to target the student age group first, since kids and schools tend to be breeding grounds for passing illnesses around, and eventually back to adults through families.

Parents are asked to fill out a questionnaire and form before obtaining the shot, and to bring the paperwork completed to the clinic. Forms are available online at the Wilmington Public Schools website: <http://www.wilmington.k12.ma.us>. Questions should be directed either to school nurses or the Board of Health.

A town-wide seasonal flu clinic will be scheduled as soon as the town receives the shots from the DPH. Tentatively scheduled for a Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 or 2:00 p.m. at Town Hall, the clinic is timed to get as many residents as possible vaccinated. No appointments are necessary and shots will be administered on a first come, first served basis. All vaccines are provided free of charge.

The allotment the town receives is based on the amount reported by the town annually. This year the entire allotment is for the town directly. In the past, the Board of Health has turned some of the supply over to private providers. Further, the town wide allotment is separate from and additional to the school allotment.

Like the school-based clinic, residents who can get the flu shot from a medical provider are encouraged to do so, as the town is not sure as to when, or how many, doses of vaccine it will receive.

So, who should get the vaccine? For seasonal flu, any child 6-months to 19-years old, pregnant women, men and women aged 50-plus, anyone with chronic health problems and their caretakers, and health workers are advised to get the vaccine. Anyone with a child under age three should go to a pediatrician for the shot.

For H1N1 the story is not as dire as once thought. Right now the swine flu is circulating, whereas the seasonal flu typically hits in midwinter in New England. Vale told selectmen that anyone with the flu in recent weeks likely had swine flu. Right now, there is very little difference between the viruses and most cannot tell unless they have a test done. Though, isolation is the most important thing with a virus, patients are reminded that they need not see their doctor unless they are so ill they cannot keep down fluids or, in the case of children, are listless like a rag-doll.

Clinical trials are well underway for the H1N1 vaccine and the latest news is that adults may only need one shot. Children may still need two.

"I like to think H1N1 is mysterious because things change daily," said Newhouse, who attends regular meetings to cover the virus and its effects.

Newhouse added that as of late Monday the town may receive H1N1 vaccines by early- to mid-October, and so will begin scheduling a clinic soon.

Recommended priority groups include pregnant women, household contacts and caregivers for infants under 6 months, healthcare and emergency workers, and all people 6 months to 24 years of age.

Seniors may be granted some immunity because of previous exposure to H1N1, but those vaccinated against the 1976 swine flu are not likely protected against the 2009 version and should obtain the flu shot, according to the Centers for Disease Control.

For H1N1 the town will likely provide a school located clinic. If children end up requiring two shots that have to be scheduled 20 to 21 days apart, the clinics will be timed accordingly. If there is enough H1N1 vaccine remaining, the town will hold a town-wide clinic and will focus initially on the priority population group.

All supplies are provided by the state and all staffing will be provided by the medical reserve corp. Newhouse made an appeal for more volunteers, especially doctors, nurses and other healthcare workers, needed to help staff as many as eight clinics this flu season.

Vale advised selectmen that people cannot get the flu from the flu shot, that the bits and pieces of DNA contained in the vaccine are not enough for the body to reconstitute the virus. Indeed, she added, most people who feel they got the flu from the shot in fact felt their body's immune response (achy, sniffles, etc.).

Vale also noted that people with allergies to eggs or bad reactions to previous flu shots should avoid the shot because both seasonal and H1N1 flu vaccines are grown in egg embryos. Even if you have already had the flu, says Vale, you should still get the shot. The only reason not to get the shot, other than an allergy to eggs, would be if you had a high fever on the day of the vaccine. Screeners will help ensure that clinic visitors are appropriately triaged.

Prevention:

"With the approaching flu season, it is important to take steps to reduce the spread of flu in Wilmington," writes Newhouse in a statement. "As you may be aware, flu can easily spread from person to person. We want to keep the schools open to students and functioning in a normal manner during this flu season, but, we need your help to do this."

Here are a few things families can do at home:

Wash hands often with soap and water or an alcohol based hand rub. Teach children to wash often, with warm water, and always before eating or drinking.

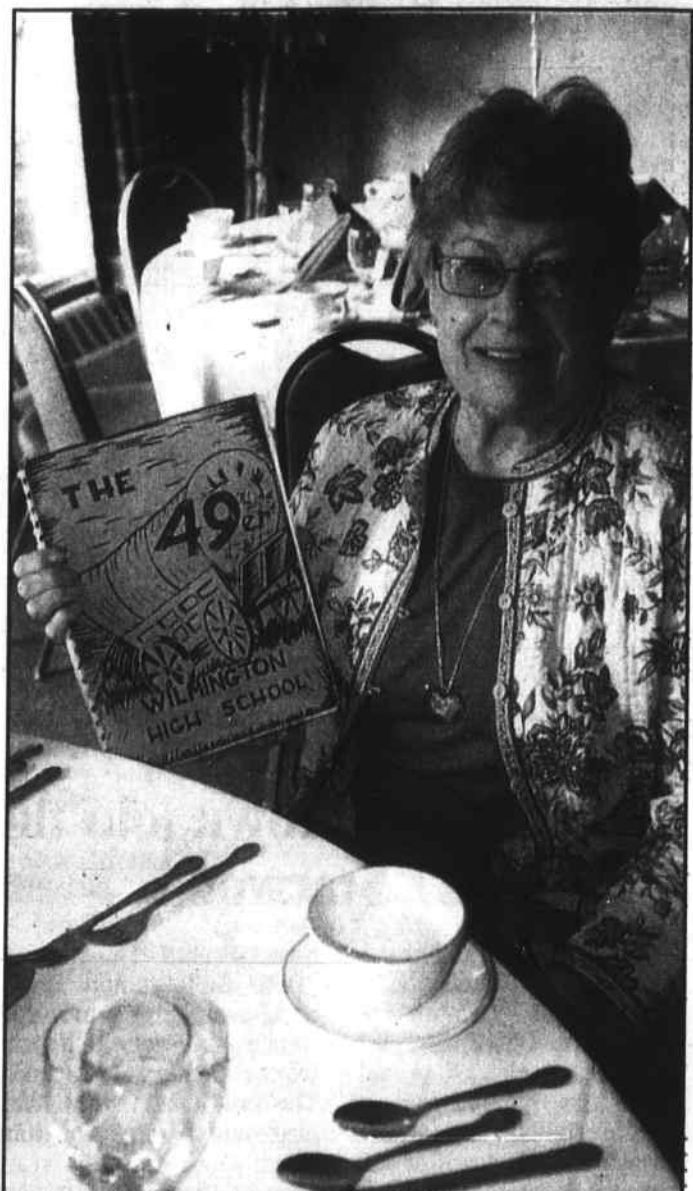

Do not share personal items, like drinks, food, or unwashed utensils.

Cover your cough and sneezes with tissues or the elbow, arm, or sleeve instead of a hand when a tissue is not readily available. Good cough or sneeze etiquette will help stop the spread of any virus.

Know the signs and symptoms of the flu including fever over 100 degrees, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, and lethargy. Some people may also vomit or have diarrhea.

If you or a child is sick, stay home for at least 24 hours after the fever is gone without using fever reducers. Keeping children with a fever at home reduces the number of people who may get infected, and helps those kids feel better sooner. Any sick child sent to school will be sent home.

For more information check the Centers for Disease Control website at www.cdc.gov, Board of Health's website at www.healthylivingwilmingtoncoalition.org, the Wilmington school department (URL above), and WCTV.

steadily since 2000. Additionally, only nine percent scored in the "Needs Improvement" range, a number that was 17 percent a year ago.

The goal of the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) is that 100 percent of the tested students will finish at or above the Proficient performance level by 2014, and Shawsheen Tech certainly seems to be moving in that direction.

Improvement in mathematics was similar to that in English as 84 percent of Shawsheen's Spring scores were either Proficient or Advanced, an increase of eight percent from last year and almost 20 percent from 2007. Shawsheen's mean mathematics score improved from 252 to 256, just four points below the DESE's threshold Advanced rating.

Shawsheen curriculum planners were particularly pleased with the total of Advanced and Proficient biology scores—which increased from 45 percent in 2008 to 77 percent in 2009. The improvement accompanied a recently implemented curriculum change that expanded laboratory biology from a one-year to a two-year program.

"Was the change in curriculum a success?" Kanellas asked. "The answer is a resounding 'yes,'" he confidently replied.

In the inaugural year of chemistry testing at Shawsheen, the results were conspicuously strong. More than 30 percent of the tested sophomores scored in the Advanced range; 60 percent were proficient; and only nine percent of the scores fell in the Needs Improvement range. There were no failures.

"Our chemistry performance will compare favorably across the state," Kanellas observed, "and strongly suggests the readiness of our college-bound students."

The AYP measure, which examines the performance of a school's entire population and its sub-groups, consists of a number of requirements that Shawsheen students continue to meet.

Shawsheen's special-education students satisfied AYP's requirements by meeting or exceeding their state-performance target, the local improvement target, and both the attendance or graduation rate target.

"I am proud of the performance of the Shawsheen faculty and all of the students at all levels of ability who contributed to this school-wide performance," Kanellas said. "We have a diverse student population, and all of our sophomores performed in extraordinary fashion last Spring."

Indeed, while Shawsheen's Honors students were among the state's finest scorers, the school's special-education and remedial students continue to shine as well.

"We pay a lot of attention to our teacher-student ratios," said Kanellas. "The Shawsheen School Committee meticulously maintains low ratios, which is a key variable in this analysis. And that same Committee thoughtfully provides students and teachers with access to effective, cutting-edge technologies."

Lady 'Cats smash Lynnfield's streak

Co-Captain Kelly strives to help team get better

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

Wilmington High senior Stephanie Kelly has been with the Wildcats volleyball program since her freshman year and has been a member of the varsity since her sophomore year. In that time, the senior co-captain has seen her team suffer their fair share of losses along the way, including last year when they were only able to win one Cape Ann League match.

But Kelly, like her teammates appears ready to put that behind her and start adding to the win column. And if the Wildcats are going to improve this year, Kelly will certainly be a major part of their success. She already played a key role for the Wildcats as they matched their league win total last week with a victory over Lynnfield.

"It was definitely great to get a win like that. We have not been very used to winning so much, so it was great to start off like that," Kelly said. "We had beaten Lynnfield in years so that was nice. I am very happy with how things are going so far, and I think we are going to keep getting better."

Wilmington coach Mark Staffier has been able to see Kelly improve her play from her beginnings as a freshman to a co-captain who will be relied on heavily as the Wildcats try to improve and he is confident that he has great leader in Kelly to lead his team back.

"One of the biggest things she has shown from day one of tryouts to today is that she is always ready to play and always trying to improve her game," Staffier said. "This past off season she went to volleyball camp to develop her skills and it has shown in her play."

One area where Kelly's game has improved has been her offensive ability. She has always been known as a tenacious defender for the Wildcats, able to get to balls and make defensive plays that others simply could not, but this year she has also made her presence felt around the net, making her an even more dangerous player.

Kelly credits her work over the summer for the improvement in her all around game.

"I went to the Bentley volleyball camp and I think it is the best camp in the country," Kelly said. "People come from all over the country to attend and I can see why. They really helped me out, putting me up on offense as an outside hitter and that was a big part of my improvement. Last year I was not able to hit very well, this year I have much better vertical around the net."

Staffier of course was very pleased with what he already had in Kelly over the past few years, and he has been thrilled with what he has seen so far this year.

"Her biggest strength is still her defense. She gets to every ball, even a lot you would think she would never

Overall team play the difference

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High volleyball team still has a long way to go this season, but already they seem poised for a much more enjoyable season than last year, or perhaps the last few years. Last season the Wildcats picked up only one Cape Ann League win on their way to a 5-15 overall record, while two years ago they went winless in league play.

But this season, after an opening game 3-1 loss to Peabody last Friday, the Wildcats bounced back with an impressive 3-1 victory over another CAL rival Lynnfield, on Monday afternoon. While it was unclear exactly how long it had been since the Wildcats had beaten Lynnfield, coach Mark Staffier has been with the program since 1999, and it was the first victory he has been associated with.

"It was great to get a win against them. I can't remember the last time we beat them," Staffier said.

Defeat Melrose in season opener

Wildcats hang on for dear life in fourth quarter

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Leading by two touchdowns with 5:13 in the game, you would hope or think that you can put the opposition away. The Wilmington High School varsity football team almost let that win slip right through their hands during Friday night's season and home opener against Melrose.

The Red Raiders scored the game's final two touchdowns, and missed on a two-point conversion rush which would have tied the game up with 2:07 remaining. Then after the Wildcats went three-and-out, Melrose moved the ball from its own 18 to the Wildcat 20 yard line on five completed passes and just basically ran out of time after almost coming through with a come from behind non-league victory on the road.

Wilmington was able to escape its field with a win, behind a tremendous performance by senior Evan Butters, who finished with 157 rushing yards, with two catches for 28 yards, while scoring two touchdowns, including a 67-yarder on the first play from scrimmage. He also had two interceptions coming from his safety position.

"Overall it was a great effort," said Wildcat head coach Mike Barry. "For the first game, I thought (quarterback) Sean (Hanley) handled himself well. We have known that he is a gutsy kid and I thought he made some nice throws and made some good decisions. They started to really come after us with the blitz, and he had some success with that. I don't know if we adjusted very well to that. But the kids knew it was going to be a fight - it's Melrose. They are a tough team, a good team and they have a lot of tradition over there."

Melrose finished 9-2 last season and came just shy of advancing to post-season play. Although the team lost its big tailback from that '08 club, another was back in uniform named Jason Campbell. He was a huge thorn in the Wildcats side all night long. He finished with 105 rushing yards and 48 receiving yards on five catches. He scored on a 9-yard pass from quarterback Tom Murphy making it 13-6, then he scored on a 20-yard run making it 20-18 with 2:07 left. But an attempt to run off tackle to the left side fell short in the game tying two-point conversion rush which ended the scoring in the crazy fourth quarter.

"We were worried about number 31 with that bubble pass but once we saw them come out (for the two-point conversion) in the Power-I we just said the heck with us, everyone just go," said Barry. "We just tried to pack the line of scrimmage and let them go. They had run that play before and we figured if they were going to beat us, maybe beat us on play-action but not on that play."

After Butters somehow got through a big pile of defenders when it appeared as he about to go down, he went untouched the rest of the way to score a 67-yard touchdown run on the first play from scrimmage.

"It looked like they had them. I think one of their kids stopped playing and Evan kept playing and we got a nice run," said Barry.

Chris Frissore connected on the PAT kick and Wilmington led 7-0.

Neither team could score the rest of the first half, and the struggles to get the ball into the end zone continued for most of the third quarter. After taking advantage of terrific field position, with the ball on the Red Raiders' 25 yard line, it took just five plays before the Wildcats got on the scoreboard again. The big play came when Hanley found Butters opened and he turned it into a 23-yard gain moving the ball to the 10 yard line. Two plays later, Hanley tossed his first varsity touchdown pass with a nice loft to tight end Brian Hurley from five yards out giving Wilmington a 13-0 lead just one play into the fourth quarter.

Melrose stormed right back to climb into the game.

The Red Raiders put together a 10-play, 69-yard drive capped off by Campbell moving to his left and scoring a touchdown on fourth-and-goal from the 9 yard line. The conversion kick failed and Wilmington led 13-6 with 7:33 left in the ballgame.

After a 31 yard kickoff return by Kevin Moriarty put the ball at the Wildcat 43, it took just four plays, all by Butters, for the Wildcats to score their third touchdown. Butters had a 49-yard run and then two five yard runs before scoring his second touchdown on a 3-yarder. Frissore's kick was good and Wilmington led 20-6 with 5:13 to go.

That's when Melrose scored two touchdowns over a 2:04 span, with Joe Sasso scoring on a two-yard run (conversion kick failed) and after recovering the ensuing outside kick, Melrose stormed down the field again with Campbell finding the end zone for the second time on his 20-yard run making it 20-18. Then the aforementioned conversion rush failed and Wilmington barely hung on for the victory.

"(It wasn't bend don't break it was more like) we played loose, loose and loose in that fourth quarter and we need to clean that up," said Barry. "Once we scored (the third touchdown) we stopped playing defense and just let them get back into the game. You are talking about, what I think, is one of the more traditional programs out there. Melrose is well-coached and you know they are going to play hard. You tell your kids that and sometimes you get up by two scores and you stop playing defense and you have a let-down."

Wilmington ended up with 234 yards of offense including 162 on the ground. Butters had 157 of those 162 yards with two scores. Hanley was pretty solid in his debut, making several nice plays and throws, and ending his night completing 6-of-10 passes for 72 yards with one touchdown and one interception.

Wilmington High senior running back Evan Butters, shown during last year's win over North Andover, rushed for 157 yards and scored two touchdowns to lead the Wildcats past Melrose, 20-18, in the season opener on Friday. (file photo).

Butters emerging as dominant force on both sides of the ball

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Towards the end of last year's football season, Evan Butters started to really come into his own and blossom on the field. Then towards the latter half of the baseball season, the right-hander came out strong enough and emerged as the team's No. 1 pitcher, including tossing a gem victory in the team's first round state tournament game.

But on Friday night, he took his talents to a new level. The senior tri-captain tailback had quite the performance in the football team's opening game. He ended the night with 157 rushing yards on just 13 carries, while he scored two touchdowns. In addition to that, he caught two passes for 28 yards, had to punt returns for 25 yards, intercepted two passes from his safety position, and was also a part of the entire defensive stand on what would have been the game tying conversion rush by Melrose with 2:07 left in the game.

So all in all, the returning all-league player, had quite the dominating performance.

"Evan was an all-league player for us last year so we expect him to do well," said Wildcat head coach Mike Barry. "But we have John (Parsons) and Kevin (Moriarty) back there (as running backs) and we expect good things out of them as well."

While Barry could have expected a big-time performance out of Butters, this was truly a special game.

"Evan had a great game," said Barry. "He had a couple of those one and two yard gains and then he would have a big one of 30 yards or something which is really nice. They were really selling out, so it was good because we were able to pop one in there every now and then."

And it didn't take long for Butters to do exactly that - pop a big run. On the first play from scrimmage, he took a hand-off going to his right. As he turned the corner near the Melrose bench, it appeared as if a big group of players would force him to the ground. Instead he somehow escaped that pack, and burst through the seam and sailed all the way into the end zone for a 67-yard touchdown run.

"I just got fired up," he said. "I tried to keep my composure but I just went out there and kept running as hard as I could and just tried not to go down. The line did awesome (all game). They are a huge part to this team and they were just awesome tonight."

Butters had 95 rushing yards at halftime, while he also picked off two passes from Melrose quarterback Tom Murphy ending any threats the Red Raiders had to score. At that time the Wildcats led 7-0. In the second half, Butters didn't take the ball as much as he did in the first half, but managed to take all four carries for a combined 62 yards including his second touchdown of the game from three yards out giving Wilmington a 20-6 lead with 5:13 left in the game.

"We had 11 guys on the field and we were just hoping to be tougher than them," said Butters. "I knew we would be. We were looking at them because they were supposed to be a real good team, but we just toughed it out and everybody put in a good effort and that's why we won."

Wilmington barely came up with that win after Melrose stormed back to score two touchdowns in the final five minutes cutting the deficit to 20-18. After Jason Campbell scored, Melrose gave the ball back to the tailback for the two-point conversion and Butters was one of the many Wildcat players who were able to stuff the hole and leave Campbell out of the end zone, thus helping the Wildcats preserve the lead and the victory.

"This is a huge win for us," he said. "It really sparks us up big time. Coming out and beating a great team like Melrose, I don't know, just sparks the team up. I think good things are going to happen for us this season."

get to. And if she doesn't always make the play, she is able to at least get a hand on it," Staffier said. "And it is a credit to her that her offense is also coming along very well and she is holding her own at the net."

Kelly, who is also looking forward to playing tennis this season, has also stepped up in her role as co-captain along with fellow senior Amanda Hollenbeck. Staffier says that while the talented Hollenbeck is a bit more of a vocal leader, Kelly prefers to let her game do the talking.

"Stephanie is definitely more of a leader by example where Amanda is more vocal," Staffier said. "She is always giving her best effort and the other kids see that. They bring a nice mix as captains."

Kelly, for her part is grateful to have Hollenbeck as her co-captain. In fact, she downplays her role as captain thanks to the great job that Hollenbeck does for the team.

"Amanda keeps the whole team together and she does most of the work," Kelly said. "I am more of a follower, but I do my best to try and keep the other players in line as well. We have a real fun group and Amanda is great with them."

And Kelly also feels that Staffier's approach to coaching the team will be another key to their success this season.

"He is a great coach. He has helped me improve so much the past few years," Kelly said. "He definitely uses positive reinforcement to help us. He tells us what we are doing wrong and how to fix it, but he is easygoing about it. He is easier to talk to than most coaches and that helps us because we know he will always help us."

Staffier's assistance will be very necessary in the days and weeks to come as the Wildcats move into the heart of their CAL schedule, and Kelly sees even better days ahead for her team.

"So far we are doing pretty well and I definitely feel like we can still do a lot better than last year," Kelly said. "We just need a little more practice because we are still getting used to each other. Coach Staffier and Amanda do a great job of putting us in the right place and with their help I think we can accomplish anything."

Lady 'Cats smash Pioneers

Dating back to 2003, the Wildcats have been defeated by Lynnfield 11 straight times, including a 3-0 sweep in a state tournament game back in the 2003 season. Over those 11 losses, Lynnfield swept Wilmington seven times, while just twice the games have gone to five matches. Since 2003, Lynnfield has won the league title twice, has gone to the state tournament all but one year, and has a combined record of 82-40, while, Wilmington has a combined record of 43-79 and advanced to the tournament twice, and not since 2004.

"It was a battle," said Staffier of the Monday win. "We played very well. Our serving was excellent and I think we can keep getting better, but it is just a matter of the girls getting used to where everybody is."

Wilmington came out on top by scores of 25-21, 17-25, 25-14, 25-21, and Staffier saw his team continue to play better as the match wore on, but so did Lynnfield.

"We kind of took control in the fourth game," Staffier said. "Lynnfield played very well but we were able to match them. It was a great back and forth match at times."

Senior captain and setter Amanda Hollenbeck along with middle hitters Katie Aoki and Amy Fahey all played an outstanding match for the Wildcats.

"Amanda did a great job serving. I can't even count the number of aces she had, but she seemed to be averaging about four per game," Staffier said. "And Katie and Amy made a couple of nice blocks each. They both did a nice job in the middle of the floor."

Even the loss to Peabody was an encouraging sign for the Wildcats as they battled a very talented team right to the finish falling 3-1 by scores of 25-14, 25-20, 19-25, 25-15. Staffier felt that some first game jitters may have played a role in their defeat.

"We started off very slow in the first game," Staffier said. "We had some scrimmages, but with this being our first real game it was a little different. They were still getting used to playing together and it was just their first game together."

Despite the slow start, Staffier was pleased with how his squad responded with their backs against the wall.

"In the third set we started clicking. Things really started to go well for us," Staffier said. "They showed me the potential we can have once we work out some of our issues. Even in the fourth game we played well. The score was much closer for most of the game."

Hollenbeck was once again outstanding as was co-captain and defensive specialist Stephanie Kelly. Also playing a strong match for the Wildcats was North Reading junior transfer Anna Perullo and Amy Fahey.

"She is a good player and she has stepped right in since coming over from North Reading," Staffier said. "It is nice to get a player who is ready to go like that. She has filled in a big spot. And Amy had a couple of big blocks for us to keep us in the game."

Wildcats battle two top teams 'til the end

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Through the first two games of last year's season, the Wilmington High School girls' soccer team had an 0-2 start, losing to Masconomet 5-1 and North Andover 6-3. Those two teams ended up having tremendous seasons with the Chieftains finishing at 18-2-0 losing in the Division 1 sectional quarterfinals, and the Scarlet Knights finishing at 15-4-1.

Now a year later, the Cape Ann League schedule-maker gave Wilmington the same start. Last Thursday, the Wildcats opened at home under the lights against Masco and on Monday, the team traveled to North Andover. But this time around the results were different, although both opponents seem to be much stronger than they were in 2008.

On Thursday the 'Cats lost 3-2, and then played to a scoreless tie on Monday against North Andover, the same team who knocked off Central Catholic, 1-0, in its season opener. Central Catholic lost in the Division 2 sectional semi-finals last year, which included knocking the same Wildcat team out of the playoffs with a 3-0 opening round victory.

Wilmington gave up an early goal to Masconomet, and after that played pretty well the rest of the way including a strong defensive effort in the second half.

"I'm very pleased (with the effort)," said head coach Sue Hendee. "I'm pleased we were able to score two goals against them, and I'm pleased that they didn't score in the second half considering they had a lot of chances and got a lot of shots off. I thought our entire defense really played well."

Despite a pretty good opening season performance, the Wildcats couldn't pull out the two points or even grab a point with a tie. The Wildcats have been defeated by Masconomet seven straight times and have been outscored 26-5 during that stretch, and haven't beaten the Chieftains since a 1-0 thriller back on September 14, 2005.

"I am actually very surprised with Masco," said Hendee. "I thought they had lost a bunch of really good seniors from last year but they have some really crazy skilled players out there, who all have good speed. I actually think they are better than they were last year just as far as their team play is concerned. For the first game of the season, they look like a pretty well oiled machine."

Masconomet got off to a strong start scoring a in a goal in the third minute of play. Kaitlin Sampson started the offensive threat with a kick to the low left hand corner and after the ball bounced around a bit, Lucy Gildein was there to put it home giving Masco the quick 1-0 lead.

"I think the first goal was just some jitters and just not being organized," said Hendee. "But it got much better as the game went along."

Wilmington did play much better and same back to tie the game up seven minutes later. Freshman Holly Niemiec, who was very impressive in her varsity debut, had the ball on the left hand side before she just missed the far right corner for a goal. But as the ball roled through the crease, senior captain Brittney McLaughlin came storming in off the weak side and buried the loose ball into the back corner to tie the game up at 1-1.

Just 73 seconds later, Masco took the lead again as Emily Cocciardi gave a nice heads up pass to the right side to an unmarked Gabby Russo, who then moved in and placed the ball perfectly to the top inside left post to give Masco a 2-1 lead.

The Chieftains extended their lead to two goals before the first half ended. With nine minutes to go in the first half, Masco was storming the Wildcat net with a cross pass from Kendral Pratt to Lexi Sheehan, whose shot was saved but the rebound went out to Joanna Bouras who was able to drive it home making it 3-1 before the half. GIRLS SOCCER PG SP4W

Owens scores two goals to help lead boys soccer team to season opening win

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Despite a sluggish start and the need to be more organized, the Wilmington High School varsity boys soccer team defeated Haverhill, 3-0, in the team's season and home opener held Monday night under the lights at Alumni Stadium.

Nick Godzyk scored just two minutes into the game and Andy Owens added the second and third goals, while the combination of Marty Bamberg and John Malone combined for two saves and the shut out to help the Wildcats start the season off on the right foot.

"I don't know what it was if it was first game jitters or what, but we really weren't polished early," said head coach Steve Scanlon. "I don't think we played particularly good off the ball. When we had it we did some good things but we seemed to be disjointed when we didn't have it. We did better as the game went along, so we have plenty of stuff to build off of."

Just two minutes into the game, senior Michael Murphy had one of his usual throw-in bombs and this one went right to the far post to Godzyk, who headed the ball into the back of the net for what proved to be the game winning goal.

After about 10 to 15 minutes of really sluggish play, Wilmington got back with it and started to dominate the game with a number of scoring opportunities. Caleb Rogers sent a nice pass to is right to Cody O'Connor, who came off the weak side beating the defender to get in alone but he was shot went right into the keeper's hands.

Then with about two minutes left in the first half, the Wildcats got back on the board. Owens intercepted a Haverhill throw-in in front of the Wildcat bench, and then he shifted past two Hillies defenders with a couple of nifty moves, before moving to the center of the net and pushing the ball to the low left hand corner making it 2-0 right before the halftime break.

In the 21st minute of the second half, Owens was back at it as he put a beautiful ball to the top right hand corner on a boot from about 30 yards out, for his second of the game making it 3-0. A few minutes later, most of Wilmington's starters were out of the game, including Bamberg, who gave way to Malone, who secured the combined shut out.

"We had plenty of scoring chances in the first half and could have put the game away but some of the shots went right at the keeper," said Scanlon. "We were looking to get our two points with the non league win and that's what happened. Andrew had a couple of nice goals, and I thought (Jimmy) Mara played well at that stopper-position."

Cross Country

Usually taking trips to several surrounding Cape Ann League towns is not that much fun, but last Thursday was anything but that for the Wilmington High boys and girls cross country teams.

First the bus didn't show up, and after a second one was finally reached, that one broke down on Rte. 95 in Danvers. Thus a third bus was sent, and Wilmington finally got to Pentucket Regional at 4:30, an hour after the meet was scheduled and more than 90 minutes later than expected. And when the meet was finally over and the Wildcat runners were sitting on the third bus of the day and coming back to Wilmington, the results of the tri-meet were announced were the boys, defeated Pentucket, 22-33 but lost to Masconomet, 15-48, while the girls were defeated by both Pentucket, 16-45, and Masconomet 19-43.

In the boys race, a very talented Masconomet team had the top five overall finishers. Zack Sears was the top runner for the Wildcats as he came in at 18:27 for the 2.95 mile course which Bradley said was very difficult. Freshman Stephen Halas was second coming in at 18:53, followed by Tom Valente (19:11) and Cole Pepper (19:22). While Masco had the top five finishers, Wilmington finished first, second, fourth and fifth in the meet against Pentucket.

"Zack is starting the season much quicker than last year and with Stephen we have four very talented runners to roll out," said Bradley.

Rounding out the Wilmington runners include

Jake Russo who was 5th at 20:25, Sean Keane, was sixth at 20:41 and John Weber was seventh at 21:01.

"Jake is greatly improved from last year," said Bradley.

Turning to the girls, a much improved Pentucket team defeated Wilmington, 16-45, while the score was almost identical in the loss to Masco. Eighth grader Sydnee Russo was Wilmington's first runner coming in at 21:04, and she was followed by another eighth grader Rachel Alatalo, who came across the finish line at 22:25. Behind the two junior high kids came freshman Michelle Barmes (22:53), senior Jess Burke (22:57), Nikki Sirignano (23:05), Amy Fisher (23:12) and Courtney Collins (23:27).

"Rachel and Michelle have exceeded expectations at this point," said Bradley. "Amy is doing cross country for the first time in two years and is a big addition."

Field Hockey team off to an impressive start

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Considering that the team only won three games all of last year, and are off to a terrific 2-0-1 start, you would think that everyone is excited about the turnaround through the first three games. But Wilmington High varsity field hockey coach Jodi MacKenzie said it's great but the team still has ways to go.

"(Tuesday night) it seemed like we were carrying bricks on our feet," she said. "I think we had a hard time with the field and the girls felt as if they were sinking, so I think that took a lot of energy out of them. I thought we were the better team than Amesbury, but the girls didn't play like we did in the first two games last week against Triton and Masco."

The season started out with a scoreless tie against Triton, and MacKenzie said her girls played very well, but thought the Wildcats could have come out with a win, instead of getting just the one point for the tie. Then on Friday, the Wildcats pulled out an exciting 2-1 win over Masconomet. Senior captain Liz Crannell set up both goals, the first one to Sam Palermo and the second to Kristyn Callahan which proved to be the game winner. Callahan, the coach says, has been playing phenomenal in the early goings.

"She's normally a forward but I've been alternating her at the right midfield spot and then she'll go up and play some forward," said MacKenzie. "But Kristyn looks real good out there. She has been just flying around everywhere for us and she really picked up the slack for some of the other girls (on Tuesday night)."

In the win 1-0 win over Amesbury, Fiona Gately scored the lone goal, scoring at the ten minute mark of the first half.

"The ball was in the circle and it just came across to her and it was a big scramble in front, but she was there to pop it in," said MacKenzie.

That goal was enough for the Wilmington defense to do its thing, which has been playing incredible field hockey, giving up just one goal through three games, a far cry from giving up 12 through the first three games of last season.

"The backs have been carrying us," said MacKenzie. "I thought Jacqui Lyman and Liz Jaechke had phenomenal games and Christi Bush at sweeper played a very strong game as well."

And behind that trio is Nicole Luz, who certainly is playing well beyond any realistic expectations.

"This is the first time she has played field hockey," said MacKenzie, of Luz, who made seven saves on Tuesday for the shut out, and made six saves in the win over Masco. "She's been a lacrosse goalie and she's friends with some of the girls so she figured she would give field hockey a try. She has really come a long way already. When she first started I think it was tough for her to get used to the pads and being on the ground and trying to get up because that's not easy. Now she's used to it, and she's just a very aggressive goalie. She's not scared to go after the ball and she is playing awesome for us - she really is."

With a 2-0-1 record, the Wildcats will continue to try to keep their unbeaten streak going with a road trip to Newburyport on Thursday, followed by a home game under the lights on Monday against the usual powerful North Andover squad beginning at 6:00 pm.

"We're 2-0-1 and last year we were 3-13-3, so we are moving up," said MacKenzie. "I think it's just a case where the girls are not afraid to shoot the ball, and they are playing with more confidence. And to be honest, there's not one girl I have on the team who I am nervous about putting in. Everyone is contributing."

time break.

The lead easily could have gone to three goals but Wilmington's Paige Bennett made a very strong play keeping the ball out from the net after keeper Jackie Zaremba came out earlier to play a ball on the opposite side.

Wilmington had several good offensive bids in the second half. Senior Kellyn Campbell took a corner kick to the left of the Masco keeper. The ball ended up bouncing back outside the '18 yard box to senior defender Danielle Polcari, whose long high shot was saved.

Wilmington was able to cut the lead down to 3-2 scoring in the 22nd minute of the second half. Sophomore Alexa Brown made a terrific drop pass to Niemiec, who beautifully placed a shot to the left top corner for her first varsity tally.

The score remained the same, although Wilmington had a golden chance to tie it up with just over four minutes to go in the game. Senior striker Kaitlyn Souza was taken down, resulting in a direct kick inside the '18, however, Campbell's boot went over the net.

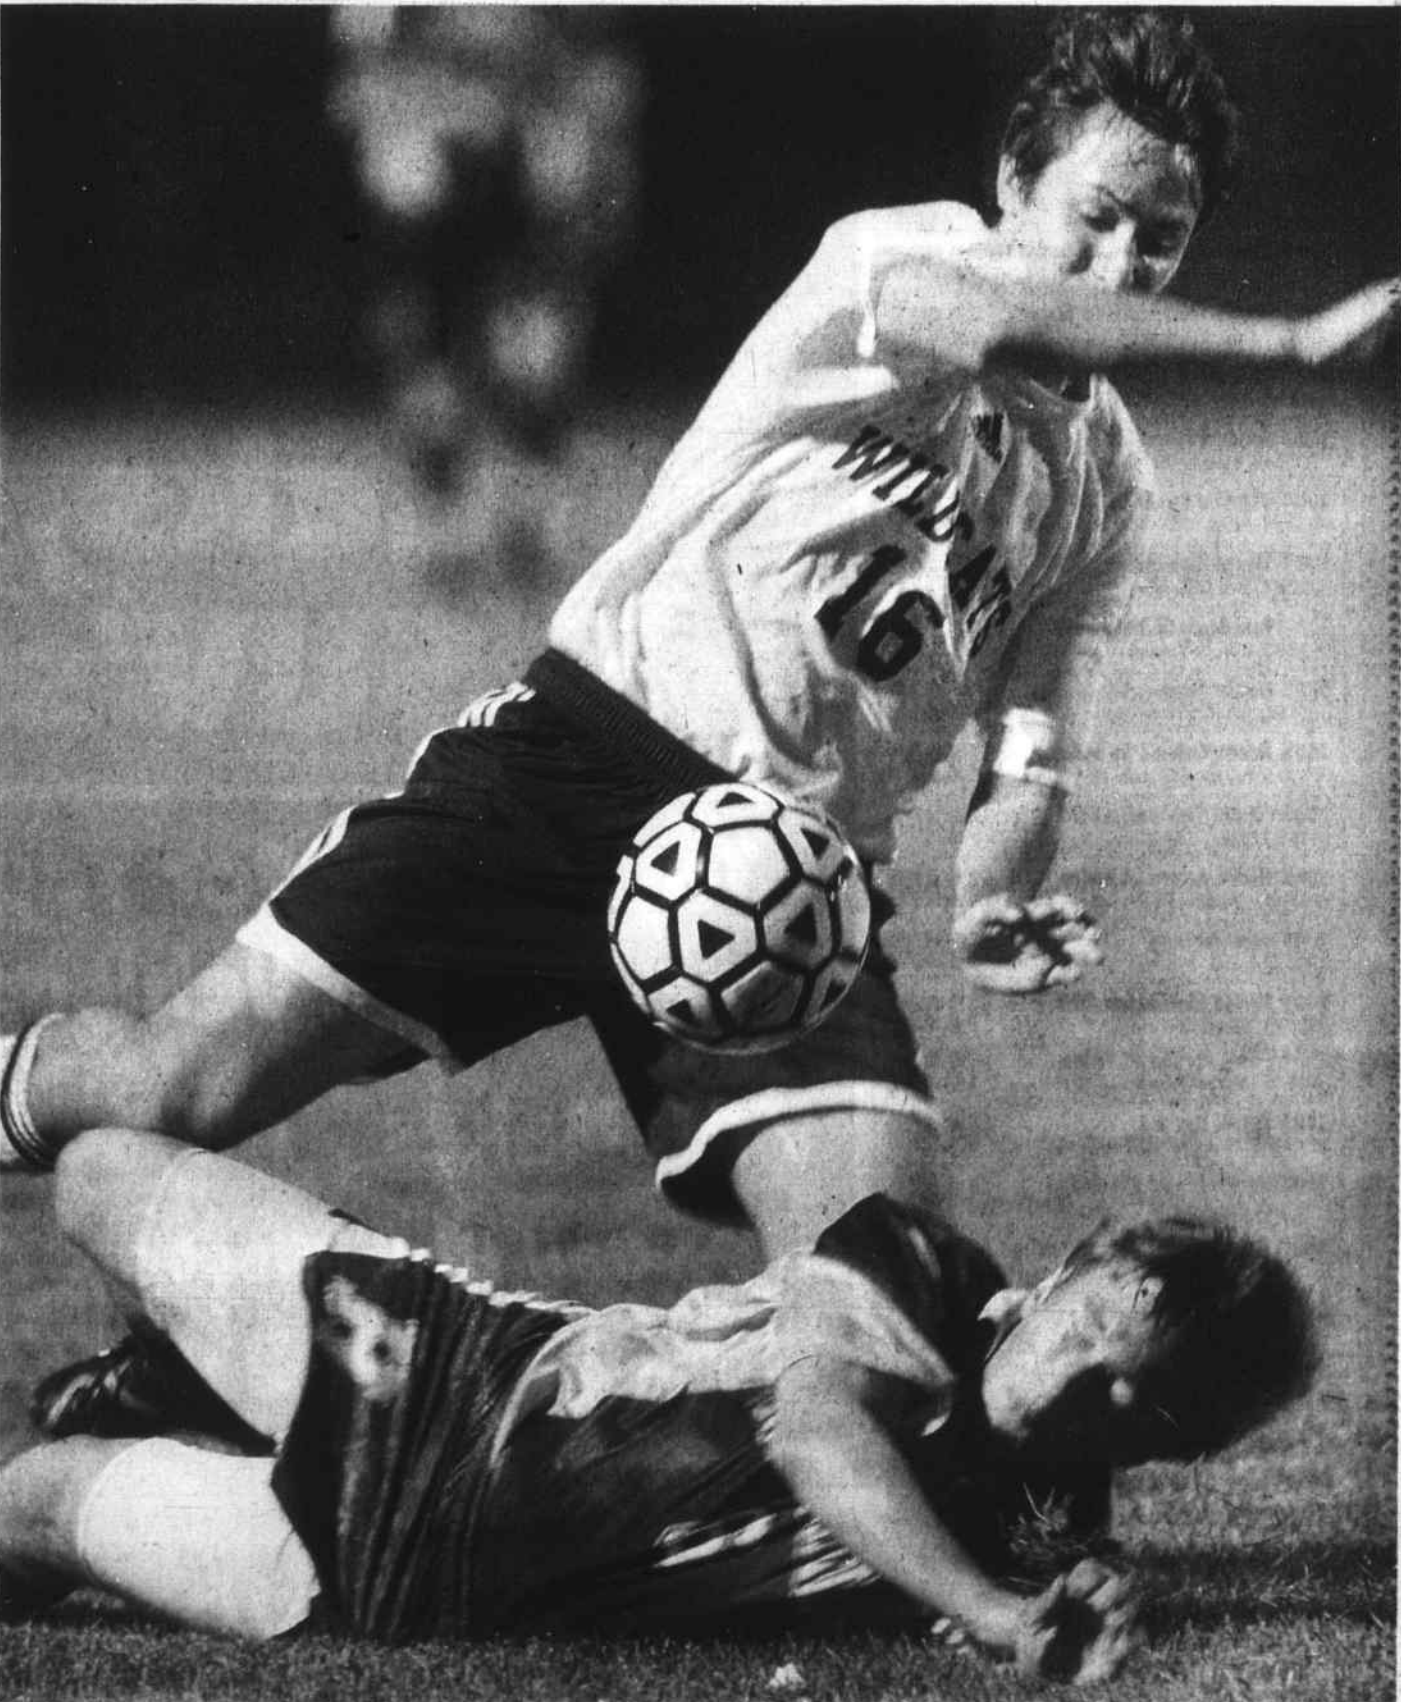

Overall Hendee said the team has to work on creating more offensive chances.

"I thought we brought the ball up through the middle-third (of the field) but then it just ended with a pass to no one, so we have to focus on hitting more feet because we didn't do that particularly well tonight," said Hendee. "There were glimpses of it though."

Zaremba made 14 saves in the net, and then came back and stopped all 13 shots she faced to record a shut out on Monday night against North Andover. Polcari and Allison Robbins played very well in front of her.

Girls Soccer team battles top two teams 'til the end

Bozzella continues incredible scoring stretch

By DAN IGO
Sports Correspondent

Scoring machine Brianne Bozzella continued her torrid start to the 2009 soccer campaign as she helped lift UMass Lowell to a 3-1 win over Stonehill on Wednesday. The junior forward from Wilmington scored a goal and added an assist in the victory.

Last week, Bozzella scored two goals in a 3-1 upset win over No. 11 Franklin Pierce.

Tewksbury's Colleen Fitzpatrick, a senior defender on the team, assisted on the team's go-ahead goal in the 68th minute.

The River Hawks boast a record of 3-2. They next play at home on Wednesday against Saint Anselm.

Bozzella isn't the only Wilmington athlete tearing it up for UMass Lowell. Stephen Potner scored two goals as the No. 22 men's soccer team defeated the University of New Haven 2-0 on Saturday. Potner scored his first goal in the 30th minute and completed the brace in the 53rd minute.

The junior forward now has three goals and an assist in his team's first three games. Potner leads the team in goals, shots (12) and shots on goal (6).

A pair of local athletes had solid games for the WPI football team in its 25-0 shutout over Worcester State on Friday. Defensive back Adam Power of Tewksbury had an interception in the first quarter that gave the Engineers great field position. Six plays later Wilmington's Ernie Mello punched it in from the one-yard line for a touchdown. Mello, a sophomore running back, led the Engineers with 63 rushing yards. Power, a junior, had five tackles, a sack and a fumble recovery in addition to his interception.

The Engineers boast a 2-0 record and go on the road to face Becker on Saturday.

Sammy Macy had another monster game for the UMass Lowell field hockey as they won their first Northeast-10 Conference game 4-2 over American International on Saturday.

Macy, a junior forward from Tewksbury tallied five points in the win. She scored the eventual game-winning goal 40 seconds after tallying an assist. She scored her second goal of the game at the end of the second half to make the score 4-0.

Macy now has eight goals on the year. The River Hawks are currently ranked third in the country and have a record of 6-1, 1-0 in conference play. They travel to St. Michael's College in Vermont on Wednesday.

Wilmington's Derek Flodin kicked off his junior season as a member of the Franklin Pierce golf team by carding a 84 at the Assumption College Shootout at Blackstone National Golf Course in Sutton on Thursday. Franklin Pierce finished in fifth place out seven teams.

Vinny Papageorgiou has started two games in goal for the Franklin Pierce soccer team. The Wilmington sophomore boasts a record of 1-1 and a GAA of 1.00. He has made seven saves.

Tewksbury's Chris Byrne had four tackles for the Northeastern football team, but it was not enough as the Huskies fell 17-7 to Maine on Saturday. The Huskies remain winless at 0-2 and will face Youngstown State on Saturday.

The Fifth Annual Wilmington Happy Birthday Half Marathon and 5 K Run/Walk will be held on Sunday Sept. 27, 2009. The race will start on Waltham Street at 10:00 am and registration will begin at 8:00 am.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Rams Girls Soccer team posts two shut outs

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech girls soccer team is off to an amazing start to the season. In fact, it is hard to imagine them being off to any better start than they are right now with shutout victories in their first two games, by scores of 6-0 and 7-0.

While the Lady Rams have yet to face the iron of their schedule, they have shown themselves to be nothing short of what was expected of the defending state vocational champs headed into the season and their leader has been senior captain Jenn Carroll of Wilmington.

Carroll has three goals and three assists on the young season, following a one goal three assist outburst in the season opening 6-0 win over North Shore last Friday and a two goal effort against Minuteman on Monday afternoon at home for the 7-0 victory. She, along with co-captain Jenna Zechner have not surprisingly, been integral to Shawsheen's early season success.

"Jenn and Jenna are both doing great," Shawsheen coach Doug Michaud said. "Jenn is doing a great job providing offense and Jenna is working hard at playing center midfielder for us. It is great having her there because we know at any point she can get the ball and come down and score a goal."

Also playing very well for the Lady Rams has been freshman Kristen Carroll of Tewksbury. Kristen is no relations Jenn, but she certainly seems to have the same scoring touch as she plays forward with Jenn and Charlotte Ardini.

"I don't have as many forwards as I had last year because I am using some of them as midfielders, like Erin Plunkett, so that has opened up a spot at forward," Michaud said. "That has helped us because not only are the players we moved becoming more versatile, but it will help Kristen as well because she does not have as much experience as Jenn and Charlotte, but being up there has been great for her."

Alyssa Martucci of Tewksbury, along with starting goalie Jen Curtis have combined for shutouts in each of the first two games, and although they have not been challenged with a lot of shots, Michaud has been happy with what he has seen so far.

"We will have Jen starting most games, but I want to make sure I get Alyssa in at times as well, because she can be a valuable player for us, instead of just being on the bench," Michaud said.

While Jenn Carroll and Zechner will provide the bulk of the offense along with Ardini and Kristen Carroll, in the early going, Shawsheen has been getting quality play and scoring from a number of different players. In the Minuteman win for example, the Lady Rams got single goals from Marissa Irwin, Janel Madore of Tewksbury, Arianna Medeiros of Tewksbury and Sabrina Gomes.

"We have some of those players on defense and they have still been able to contribute offense," Michaud said. "Janel is doing very well for us as a midfielder."

While they are off to such a great start, Michaud knows it will get more difficult from here, starting with Northeast on Wednesday afternoon.

"I'm excited to take a step up in competition with Northeast," Michaud said. "The past couple of games have been very slow so we are looking forward to a new challenge."

Volleyball

The Shawsheen volleyball team is off to a great start in their own right, as they are

2-0 on the young season, and have yet to lose a set. The Lady Rams got their season off to a fine start last Thursday afternoon at home against CAC rival Whittier (25-21, 25-11, 25-23) and followed it up with another impressive win over league rival Chelsea on Monday by a score of 3-0 (25-16, 25-9, 25-15).

In the Chelsea win, Shawsheen took control early and never looked back. "I thought we started a little slow in the first game, but then we got it going and we really started to dominate in the second game where we really came out strong,"

Shawsheen coach Chet Flynn said. "In the third game we built a good lead and maintained it the whole game."

Leading the way for Shawsheen in the Chelsea win were senior outside hitter Holly Zechner and junior setter Jess Houghton, who combined for 20 service points on the day.

"Both of them served very well, and both of them were also two of our better defenders as well and have been for the first two matches," Flynn said.

Flynn knows how fortunate he is as a coach to have two players who can serve as well as Zechner and Houghton.

"Face it, serving is such an important part of the game," Flynn said. "It is something we are very strong with this year. Having them and Allyson Trayah scoring points like that right off the bat is a great weapon."

Trayah, of Tewksbury, is off to an outstanding start on the season, with three kills and some outstanding defense in the win over Chelsea.

"In both games, but in the Chelsea game in particular she has been very strong defensively. She made a couple of real nice plays for us," Flynn said. "I already know she will serve well and hit well and if she plays defense the way she has been we will be an even better team."

Senior outside hitter Amy DeCelles of Tewksbury had four kills against Chelsea while Laura Sorenson had two kills and played very well.

"Amy has really developed into a real nice hitter for us. She has a nice approach and some good hang time. She is doing very well so far," Flynn said. "Sorenson had two great kills. She did not have as many as some others but this is just because she did not have as many opportunities. She played very well."

The win over Whittier last week featured a great comeback in the third game by the Lady Rams, who trailed 11-1 at one point before eventually tying the game at 20-20 before taking the 25-23 victory.

The win featured more great efforts from the entire team, but particularly strong performances by Houghton and DeCelles. Houghton had 15 service points all by herself in the win, several of them at critical times, while DeCelles had another four kill game.

"Jess was a big reason we were able to come back. She had four service points in a row that brought us from 14-20 to 18-20," Flynn said. "And along with having four more kills and doing a great job hitting, she was also all over the court defensively."

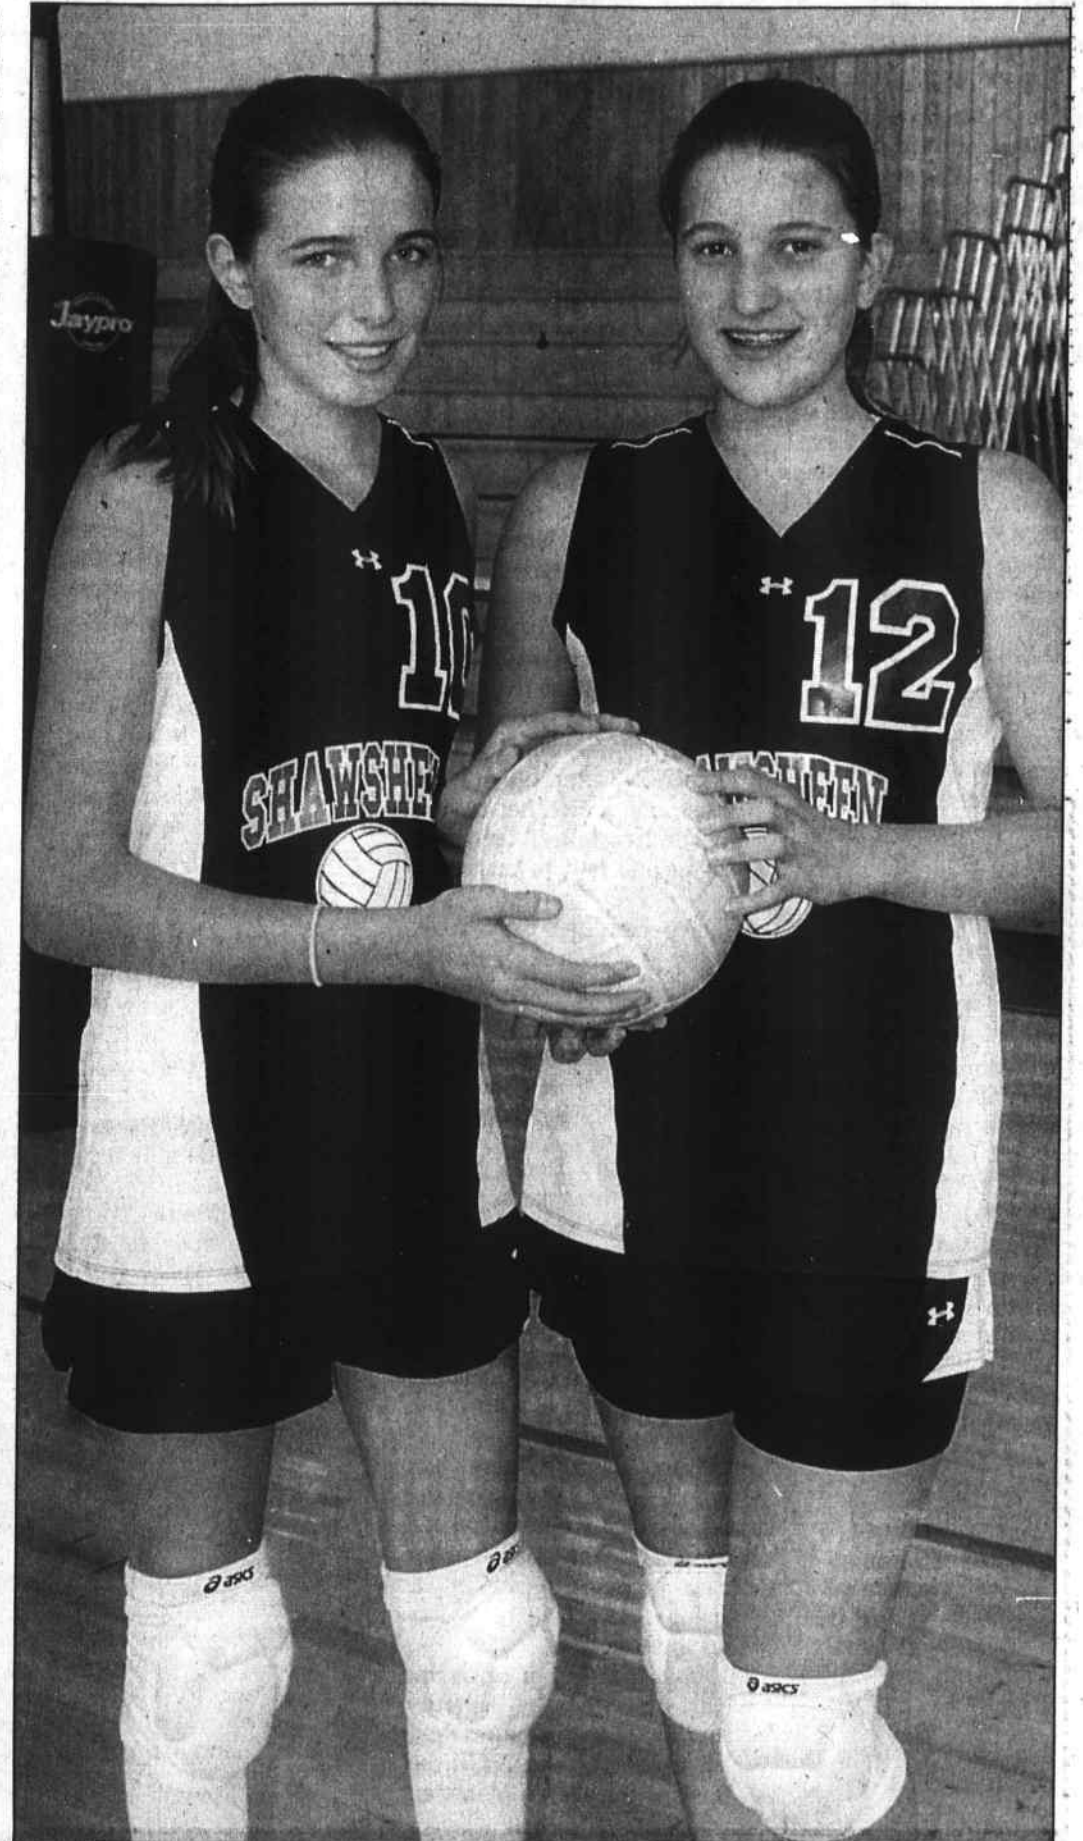

Shawsheen will continue their CAC schedule with their first road match of the year, at Fellowship on Thursday afternoon.

Boys Soccer

The Shawsheen boys soccer team is off to a 1-1 start, suffering a tough season opening loss to defending CAC champ Chelsea by a score of 5-1 last Wednesday before rebounding with an impressive 2-1 victory over Whittier on Tuesday afternoon in a road game.

In the win over Whittier, Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss felt his team played a very strong game and probably should have won by an even wider margin.

"It seemed like we had possession of the ball a lot more than they did. Our fullbacks and halfback were making some very good plays to move the ball up so I was very pleased with that," Barriss said. "We probably put about 25 or 30 shots toward the net, although not all of them went to the goalie and we held them to just seven shots."

Senior Mike Terk got the Rams on the board early in the first half off of a great set up by sophomore Mike DiGiorgio. DiGiorgio made a great play to come in on a breakaway on the Whittier goalie, who made an outstanding save to prevent the goal for a moment, but Terk was right there to pounce on the rebound and kick it home for a 1-0 lead that was a great confidence boost for the Rams coming off the Chelsea loss.

"Right now we are still in a transition stage from the kids last year to the kids taking over this year," Barriss said. "And the kids are still wondering if they can get the job done, especially after losing to Chelsea, so getting an early goal like that was a big lift for them."

Chelsea tied the game at 1-1 at the 19 minute mark of the first half off of a direct kick and that is how the teams went to half, but Barriss was still confident that his team would come out on top.

"I told the guys that we had been controlling the game and were dominating in every aspect except the most important part and that we just needed to keep up what we were doing," Barriss said.

Barriss did some substituting at about the ten minute mark of the second half, and moved Leo Riberio and Rich Madigan up from their usual midfield position to forward and the move paid almost immediate dividends with Riberio making a great pass to Madigan who took a quick shot past the startled Whittier goalie for the 2-1 lead at the 15 minute mark of the second half.

Senior goalie Alex Perez helped preserve the victory later in the second half. After being beaten on the previous direct kick, he was not about to let it happen again, making a great save on a direct kick to keep the lead at 2-1.

In the loss to Chelsea, the Rams were tied at 1-1 in the first half and trailed only 2-1 after a late Chelsea first half goal, but Chelsea pulled away in the second half. Barriss knew that starting the season against the perennial champs would not be easy, so he was not discouraged by the loss, particularly considering the way his team played in the first half. The Rams next two games are against Lynn Tech and Greater Lowell, at which point, Barriss feels like he will know a little more about his team.

"If we can compete with Lynn Tech then maybe that means we can compete with Greater Lowell and some of the other teams," Barriss said. "If we do that then we will be back in the hunt and we will be all right. I think we will do well and the team thinks so as well so now we just have to go out and do it."

Golf

The Shawsheen golf team is also off to a 1-1 start on the season, with a dominating 160-191 victory in their season opener over league Colonial League rival Minuteman last Thursday at the Rams home course at Patriot Golf Course in Bedford.

Senior captain Brett Fredrickson led the way for the Rams as the overall medalist, shooting a 2-over 37 on the way to the win. "Brett played terrific," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "We are counting on him to play well for us, and he certainly stepped up for us in the first match."

Along with Fredrickson, the Rams also got great efforts from sophomores Stephen Murphy and Chris Clayton, each of whom shot a 40 and junior Chris Deacetic who shot a 43.

Struthers knows it is a great advantage to have so many players putting up low scores.

"Absolutely it is great to have that," Struthers said. "And the great thing about our new scoring system with the total scores is that we have eight quality kids we can put out every match. The toughest thing for us is trying to decide who will take the last couple of spots on the active roster."

The loss on the week for the Rams came to non-league rival Burlington by a score of 166-167. While Struthers was pleased that his team battled a non-league rival so tough, he knows that the match was there for the taking.

"We were off by seven strokes from our last match and I know we could have played better," Struthers said. "Fredrickson, Murphy and Deacetic all shot 38 and played great, but the rest of our guys who usually shoot in the low 40's all seemed to have bad days at the same time. It was just one of those things."

The Rams were set to get back to their schedule on Wednesday afternoon against league rival Nashoba. Although Struthers is still a little in the dark about some of his team's opponents in the new league with different courses, he is very confident in his team's ability to compete.

"We have had a lot of practice and the kids have looked great," Struthers said. "We had some tough breaks against Burlington with some balls slipping out and so forth, but it made us realize that we have to work hard on every shot."

Rams Football team drops opener to defending champs

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA - It is one of the oldest clichés in sports, to say that a game was actually closer than the final score indicated. But in the case of the Shawsheen Tech football team's performance on Sunday afternoon against defending Division 3 Super Bowl champion Arlington Catholic at Samuel J. Cassidy Field, it is not only a cliché, it is also true. When the final whistle blew the Rams found themselves on the short end of a lopsided 34-13 score, but those in attendance know that the Rams actually made their higher division opponents work very hard for their victory.

In a game postponed by a day due to Saturday's heavy rain the Rams hung right with the powerful Cougars throughout the first half, trailing only 14-7 at the break, and in reality they could have been even closer. AC broke the game open in the second half, but even then, the Rams seemed to be a couple of plays or breaks away from getting right back in the game.

"I thought at times we did some good things," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "We moved the ball well in the first half and we really should have had more than seven points. We did some things well on both sides of the ball."

Unlike last year's matchup with AC, when the Cougars took control right from the start, the Rams made it clear they were not going to make it easy for their opponents. After going three and out on their first possession, the Rams were unable to convert a fumbled punt by the Cougars, but their defense stepped up on the Cougars first possession when defensive end Andrew Companschi of Wilmington batted down a third down pass.

The Rams took over on the AC 39 yard line and wasted no time taking advantage of the great field position, going on a five play drive capped off by a one yard run by senior Cory Foss for a 7-0 lead after Nick Danas' (from Wilmington) extra point with 5:24 left in the first quarter.

The key plays in the drive were two big completions by senior quarterback Kevin White of Tewksbury (12-22, 168 yards), of 10 yards to Companschi and 14 yards to junior Devin Conneaney.

"White did a nice job today," Costabile said. "He completed some nice passes and showed some good leadership as well."

AC, however, quickly reminded the Rams and everyone else why they are defending Super Bowl champs. They did lose some key players off of last year's squad, but one player they do still have is senior running back Charlie Bates (17 carries, 250 yards) and they did not hesitate to put the ball in his hands after returning the ensuing kickoff to Shawsheen 44 yard line.

The Cougars needed just two plays after the good kickoff return before scoring on a 36 yard run by Bates, the first of his three touchdowns on the day. The extra point failed, and the Rams maintained a slim 7-6 lead.

"They've got a great team and they've got a great player in Bates," Costabile said. "He is a powerful runner and he can make kids miss."

The Rams put together an impressive drive on their next possession, in a drive that covered 11 plays and took nearly six minutes, but the drive stalled at the AC five yard line and a missed field goal gave AC the ball back at the 20 yard line from where they proceeded to go on a 12 play drive capped by a 13 yard run on an option keeper by quarterback Peter Barsam with 4:20 left in the half. When Barsam connected with Bates for the two point conversion the score stood at 14-7 and that is how it remained until the half.

"We need to be able to finish off drives a little better, and we need to block and tackle better," Costabile said. "We missed an opportunity on that drive to get some points."

It looked like the Rams were going to take the Cougars right down to the wire, but AC began to take control right from the first drive of the second half, going on a 10 play, 69 yard drive that featured a nice mix of the run and the pass. Barsam connected with Steve Barrett for a first and goal at the five yard line and Bates took it in from their on the next play, blasting through the middle of the line for the score and a 21-7 lead with 5:30 left in the third quarter.

The Rams were forced to punt on their next possession, but another fumbled punt, this one recovered by senior captain Bill Reynolds of Wilmington, gave the Rams great field position at the Cougar 24 yard line.

White then threw what appeared to be a great pass to the corner of the end zone in an attempt to bring the Rams within a touchdown but an interception on a great play by defensive back Ricky Douglass, who moments earlier had fumbled the punt, gave AC possession once again, and it took only two plays before Bates broke a 69 run and a 27-7 lead after the missed extra point with 1:38 left in the third quarter.

AC capped their scoring with a 15 yard run by Barsam with 5:14 left in the game before Shawsheen closed out the scoring with a four yard run by junior John McCarthy. On the Rams final drive, many backups from both teams were in the game, and McCarthy stood out for his fine play, gaining 26 yards on the drive, including the scoring run on a sweep to the right.

Things do not get any easier for the Rams next week when they continue their tough non-league slate at Division 2A Wilmington on Friday night. The Wildcats shut out the Rams last season in Billerica by a score of 27-0 and Costabile knows his team will be in for a battle when they travel to take on another higher division opponent.

"It's a great challenge for our program and we are looking forward to it," Costabile said before the season began. "They are a higher division, successful program. We love the Friday night games and the atmosphere over there. It will be a great experience for our players."

Wilmington's annual 5K run/walk set for September 27

This year's annual half marathon and 5k run/walk will be held on Sunday Sept. 27, 2009. The race will start on Waltham Street at 10:00 am and registration will begin at 8:00 am.

Last year the committee was proud to be able to give five $1,000 scholarships to the top five students in math, science, English, history, and foreign language. We were also able to give to the Wilmington Community Fund/Food Pantry in time for Thanksgiving. This year we are hoping to be able to give the five scholarships once again, and we have picked TOP Soccer to receive some of the proceeds.

For more information, visit our website at www.wilmingtonhalfmarathon.tripod.com. A printable registration form is available directly on the website, however if you would like to register online using a credit card, visit www.regrun.com. For groups of 10 or more, we offer special group rates - contact Laura Ahern c.ahern@comcast.net or Denise Gentile @ denantgen@yahoo.com for more information. Donations to our race can be made payable to Wilmington Half Marathon, and they can be mailed to Wilmington Half Marathon P.O. Box 195 Wilmington, MA 01887. Pop Warner beginning another season on the fields

By MIKE GIANANTASIO
Sports Correspondent

When passing by the Wilmington Town Hall Fields throughout the week, you will not be able to miss the hundreds of players out on the gridiron having fun and participating in their games. There will also be many dedicated volunteer coaches and board members out on the fields helping out and assisting in any way possible.

Led by President Debbie Smith, the Wilmington Pop Warner program is off to another successful year.

After coaching two national Pop Warner championship teams in Medford, Smith moved to Wilmington and began coaching Wilmington Pop Warner cheerleading in 1998. She said she has enjoyed being part of the league every year and seeing all the participants enjoying themselves.

"I hope that all the kids are learning and having fun," said Smith. "I want to see the kids excel and watch them improve throughout the season."

There are seven teams in WPW this year, and all the coaches of these teams are certified. In order to be a coach of WPW, you need to be certified by the league.

The teams made up in WPW include Wilmington A Midget, Wilmington B Jr. Midget, Wilmington C Pee Wee, Wilmington D1 Jr. Pee Wee, Wilmington D2 Jr. Pee Wee, Wilmington E1 Mitey Mite, and Wilmington E2 Mitey Mite.

The head coaches of these team respectively are Don Kenney, Rob Gills, Bill Reynolds, Dick Hersom, Sean Lord, Gary Sullivan, and Frank Irizarry.

From holding fundraisers that involve the winner getting tickets to any national sporting event to refurbishing all the helmets, Smith and the board of the directors try to do everything they can to make the practices and games fun and affordable for the kids and parents.

Each participant in football or cheerleading pays $250.00 for equipment, jerseys, practice time, referees, EMT's, scrimmages, games and of course lots of fun.

The WPW Board of Directors include Deb Smith, Bobby Jones Jr., Chris Faison, Karen Faison, Janine Hersom, Mark Ferreira, Lori Penney, Renee Pineau, Joe Spinale, Domenic Rittucci, Mike Scurto, Bob Jones Sr., Tricia Welch, Linda Ducharme, Lisa Spinale, Dick Hersom, Greg Fraser, and Christina Buldini.

Unlike youth football leagues, Pop Warner programs have to play all their games against other towns. The competition in games is at a greater level because they play against other communities. All the coaches in the league have to be certified in order to coach the teams as well.

While Smith realizes that football and cheerleading are sports to have fun and win competitions, she also knows that they come with a hefty price. Because football and cheerleading are the two highest injury prone sports, the insurance the Wilmington Pop Warner program has to pay is very expensive.

There are also other factors that contribute to the cost of making the Wilmington Pop Warner program an annual success.

"We always are trying to

find way to improve the league," said Smith. "This year we have purchased new equipment for all the players and done lots of work with the field. We put a lot into the program and I think it shows."

Smith has had plenty of success in WPW cheerleading since she became a coach eleven years ago. Smith took the first ever team from Wilmington to the New England Regional Championship. They just missed qualifying for nationals that year, but they went the next year and the 'A' team cheerleaders have been going to Nationals since 1999.

Smith also said she attributes most of the program's success to the dedication from the coaches, the parents and the kids.

"It's a huge commitment,"

she said. "It's four nights a week throughout August and then three nights a week when school starts. Everyone knows though that with the parent's work schedule, school work, vacations and other activities, it's difficult for them to find the time and we realize that."

The Wilmington Pop Warner program opens their homecoming games on Sunday, September 20th. Come show your support with games, raffles, tattoos, face painting, food, music and more.

Additional feature stories of members of the Pop Warner organization will appear in the next few issues; Also a write-up on the E2 team appear on Page SP12W

Darren LeBlanc, above and Seah Hiltz, below, take the ball up field for the Wilmington D2 Pop Warner team in their win over Woburn from this past weekend. (courtesy photos).

Wildcat D2 team defeats Woburn, 21-12

The Wilmington Wildcat D2 Pop Warner Football team squad opened up the season this past Sunday vs. The Woburn Tanners. It was a tough fought battle by both sides with Woburn coming out on top, 21-12.

The first series opened up with Woburn coming up with a big stop on fourth down. Danny Gracia came up just short after bowling over two big guys from Woburn on a run up the right side. Woburn came with some great plays to put the ball in the end zone to take a 6-0 lead.

Woburn went for the extra point but Tyler Roberts busted through the line to stop the extra point however on a broken play Woburn made the extra point a 7-0 lead. Robbie DuCharme led the Wildcats down the field with some stellar catches made by Danny Gracia and phenomenal runs out of the backfield by the Hiltz Brothers Shea and Braden.

The offensive line cleared the way with some excellent blocking from Ryan Brewer, Jake Ponte, Andrew Pearson, and Michael DuCharme. The first half ended with Woburn ahead 15-0.

The Wildcats came out of the second half feistier than ever. They open the half with a great interception by Braden Hiltz. Robbie DuCharme marched down the field behind the forces of Keegan Flynn, Jackson

Smith and the rest of the offensive line down to the two yard line.

The drive was finished with a gutsy run up the middle by Kyle Penney who toppled the linebackers from Woburn to score Wilmington first touchdown.

Woburn was on the march again but was tracked down from behind by the speedster John Kenney who denied them at the one-yard line. It was the toughness from Connor Benoit, Darren Leblanc, Ryan William and the rest of the crew that kept Wilmington in the game.

The battle was fought in the trenches with a great effort from our defensive lines getting some great plays from Ryan Williams, David Baily and Tyler Roberts. Matt Amentola clogs the middle and the Woburn running game was held to only a few yards.

The linebackers Shea and Braden Hiltz controlled the middle while the speed of Darren Leblanc and John Kenney at the corners kept Woburn at bay.

In the fourth quarter Robbie DuCharme connected with Danny Gracia for a 60 yard TD pass to bring Wilmington within two points. It was all made possible with the great blocking of Stephen Bowker, Kyle Penney, and Joe McInney. Woburn made a late fourth quarter drive to put on in the end zone winning 21-12.

Next week the D2 team will be healthy to welcoming back the likes of Johnathan Simmons, Blake Hiltz, and Bobby Gostanian to take on Woburn D2 at our annual Wilmington Pop Warner Homecoming on Sunday 9/20 against Woburn.

Cheerleaders and Players say Thank You

Wilmington Pop Warner's Cheerleaders and Football players would like to thank the community for your generous donations on Saturday September 12 at their annual sticker drive. This program depends greatly on this fundraiser to support these dedicated young participants throughout their season.

These youngsters of Wilmington Pop Warner would also like to invite the community to their Annual Home Coming on Sunday September 20th. First game starts at 8:00am and the games last until 5:00pm. There will be raffles, games, face painting, tattoo's, food, local vendors and other on going events. Please come by and enjoy the day.

Under 10-5 Girls Soccer team tackles the Tanners

The Wilmington Girls U-10-5 travel soccer team opened their season this past Saturday September 12th at home in the driving rain against Woburn. With Goal keeper Kendra Prezioso in the net and the defensive duo of Heather Beck and Alexandra Pitz watching over the Wildcat end of the field the Wilmington girls were feeling confident playing in their first travel game.

The Woburn offense came ready to play as the Tanner forwards moved into Wilmington turf and put several shots on net which keeper Kendra easily scooped up. Defenders Heather and Alexandra played like seasoned pros running into the Woburn line and stripping the ball away sending it safely up field. Unfortunately Woburn got lucky on two quick goals as the Tanners took the lead.

The Wildcats didn't give up as the Wilmington forward trio of Alyssa Bernazani showing her foot skills moving through the Woburn girls and getting off many shots at net, her teammate speedy Paige Gallucci also getting into the action sending several shots at the Woburn net and rounding out this talented group Jillian Cosman displaying soccer skills and Wildcat determination placing several well placed shots at the Woburn keeper.

Wilmington gave these girls a needed rest as they changed lines, forward Alanah Colantuoni immediately took possession and traveled deep into Tanner territory sending several shots at the net, not to be outdone her forward teammate Kayla Blonigen carried the ball up the sideline and maneuvered through the Woburn defense as she tried to get the Wildcats on the scoreboard.

Forward Marissa DeLucia also adds talent to this line moving tirelessly into tanner field, she even had several break-aways which were denied from the combination of a rain and mud creating many potholes which will stop a soccer ball instantly.

Woburn then regrouped and sent out a new offense and the Wildcats answered right back sending out defender Samantha Fusco and Julia McLaughlin. Sammy and Julia displayed speed and skill taking scoring opportunities away from Woburn and then moving the ball quickly up the sidelines.

The Wilmington ladies played in terrible weather against an older opponent and despite losing their opener they showed the class of a true champion by congratulating the Woburn team on their win and then walking off the field with smiles on every players face, they did their best on the worst kind of day.

Medeiros leads recycling effort

By GORDON VINCENT

The term "win-win" has become something of a cliché these days, but it's still the best way to describe the recycling effort East Woburn resident Paul Medeiros has devised and implemented.

Medeiros, for the past two years, has conducted a program that not only takes items that can't easily be thrown away these days like television sets, computer monitors and appliances, and turns them into cash for worthy charities in the area.

The next recycling event is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., at the Daily Times Chronicle's Woburn office on 1 Arrow Drive. Proceeds from the event go toward the Council of Social Concern, a Woburn-based charity that provides child care, parenting and wellness education, and food service throughout the Middlesex East region.

Medeiros first became environmentally-conscious as a member of For a Cleaner Environment (FACE), the group that was spawned by the contaminated water situation in East Woburn. He furthered his involvement in recycling efforts as a member of the Woburn City Council, on which he served from 1991-2005. The idea for the recycling drive to benefit charity was spawned when the city of Woburn raised its fees for curbside collection of recyclable items about three years ago.

"I just decided to try to find a better way," said Medeiros.

The city of Woburn charges $30 to pick up refrigerators, air conditioners and televisions, three times as much as residents are charged for the same items at the recycling drives, which are held just about every other month.

The major difference is the city's recycling contractor picks up the items curbside, and residents must bring the recyclable items to the designated drive site. But Medeiros still thinks the recycling drive is a more than attractive option.

"I've always said that if you provide a service that's affordable enough, people will do the right thing," said Medeiros.

The recycling events are not limited to just Woburn residents. Anyone from any community, including businesses, can drop off recyclable items. So far, people have come from as far away as Nashua, N.H. and Marblehead.

The recycling events have raised between $1,300 and $6,600 for local charities ranging from elementary school parent-teacher organizations to churches, to the Woburn Boys & Girls Club. The first event was in January 2007, and benefited the Recycle!

Goodyear Elementary School PTO.

Medeiros has had to regrettably turn down some worthy organization, simply because of a lack of space. He said the venue has to have enough room to accommodate the people who show up, receptacles for the items that are collected, and must not interfere with the regular flow of traffic.

"A couple of these groups just don't have the room," said Medeiros. "I don't want to get into a situation where people are backing out onto a main road, or where we have to hire a detail (police officers) to direct traffic."

Ten percent of the proceeds are also set aside for a scholarship to a Woburn High student.

The organization that benefits from the event must also supply at least 10 volunteers, to help take items out of vehicles and load them into the receptacles that are transported to CRT Recycling in Brockton.

"We don't want people to even get out of their cars," said

The recycling event this Saturday is open to anyone from any community.

Medeiros. "If we have enough hands, the work is light."

CRT Recycling claims what it can, and disposes of anything that isn't used. There's not much left over, according to Medeiros.

"Say we get a projector. CRT will even take the good bulbs that still work out of the projector and re-use them," said

Medeiros. "It's a pretty efficient operation. They've been at it a long time and they know what they're doing."

Medeiros has his own group of volunteers who have shown up to most if not all of the recycling events. His wife, Lori and East Woburn resident Kathy Bailey, handle the accounting. Rodney Flynn, Lisa Weiss, Mike Harriman, Dick Easler, Ralph D'Elia, Ed and Liam Quinn and Bob Carley help with the grunt work.

"We couldn't do any of these events without the support of the volunteers," said Medeiros.

The recycling events has not only taken some of the unsightly items off the curbs in the city and surrounding communities, but they have also likely lessened the instances of illegal dumping.

"I know I've seen less illegal dumping where I work," said Medeiros, who is employed by a firm in East Woburn.

He doesn't see the recycling events as being in competition but rather complementing the city's efforts.

"(Woburn Health Agent) Jack (Fralick) and the Board of Health have been very supportive," said Medeiros. "It helps the DPW because they don't have to pick up all the stuff (that's illegally dumped), and we don't hurt the city of Woburn's bottom line at all because the city doesn't make a dime on recycling collections."

Anyone in the Middlesex East area who would like further information or has any questions about this recycling program designed to save the consumer money and benefit local organizations and at the same time protect the environment can call Paul or Lori Medeiros at (781) 938-0297 or via e-mail at paulderman@verizon.net.

"WHITEOUT" - ERASE IT FROM YOUR MIND

"WHITEOUT" is a movie with few redeeming qualities. Everything is explained to the audience. Thus there is no real surprise ending. The best part of the movie is when the lights come on at the end!

"WHITEOUT"
GRADE: *

Though 'Whiteout' is the name of this film, it's also what should have been used on the script - actually, the whole thing probably should have been scrapped from the start.

Kate Beckinsale plays U.S. Marshal Carrie Stetko, a character we are introduced to when, 10 minutes into the film, she strides onscreen, promptly undresses, and takes a shower with strategically-placed clouds of steam on the see-through doors - the kind of thing you see in direct-to-video flicks, or poorly-made Hollywood films that open during the September doldrums.

Director Dominic Sena ("Swordfish," "Gone in 60 Seconds") does nothing with the screenplay, which is based on a good graphic novel.

The movie opens with a fake-looking CGI stunt where a Russian cargo plane crashes on Antarctica in the 1940s.

Naturally there's a mysterious locked box aboard with something inside that must be kept a secret at all costs, even if folks have to die because of it.

Jump ahead to present day, when the US base there is a hive of activity as everyone gets ready to exit for the winter before a "big storm" arrives.

The discovery of a dead body in a remote region threatens to upend Stetko's vacation plans and triggers flashbacks of an assignment gone wrong in Miami.

Beckinsale teams up with a pilot and eventually heads to a Russian base where she finds a geologist dying on a sofa from a slashed throat - and an ice-pick-wielding killer staying just out of sight.

Everything is explained to the audience in such a manner that a five-year-old could follow along, which makes sense considering the paint-by-numbers approach taken to the so-called surprise ending - a twist that most moviegoers will see coming long before it plays out on screen, and the houselights mercifully come up.

"EXTRACT"
GRADE: ***

Mike Judge's latest is a workplace comedy about the owner of a cooking-extract factory and the comedy of errors that his life becomes - but fans of 'Office Space' beware: this one is not up to par with that classic.

It's set in a factory instead of a jumble of cubicles, but both "Extract" and "Office Space" are workplace comedies written and directed by Judge, both are populated almost entirely by idiots, and both are amusing diversions from real life, if nothing else.

"Extract" isn't as satirical as "Office Space," but it can boast of having a great cast that manages to rescue the movie from being lumped into the rest of the summer-time clunker comedies.

Instead of championing the minions, the hero this time is a manager (Jason Bateman), and it's the drone-like worker bees who are the target of Judge's humor.

Bateman plays the owner of an extract factory who is on the verge of selling his company for a tidy profit. Mila Kunis (That 70's Show) is there to complicate things, as the pretty factory worker who gets everything she wants.

Just before the buyout can be finalized, however, a mishap on the factory floor costs an employee a testicle. So Bateman has a tough choice - he can either settle with bus-bench lawyer Gene Simmons, or he can scuttle the buyout by going to court.

Things aren't much better for him at home, as his job demands have strained his relationship with his wife (Kristin Wiig of "Saturday Night Live").

Enter a shaggy Ben Affleck, as a friend of Bateman's who dispenses some of the worst advice imaginable (along with pills and booze) from his perch behind a local hotel bar. Naturally, Bateman takes it - the advice, the pills and the booze - and the wheels come off entirely, with help from a gigolo, a klepto and a bong the size of a canoe paddle.

"Extract" doesn't work from beginning to end - some jokes fall and fall hard

Experience the Arts Advantage

Are you ready for a different way of thinking and experiencing life? Then you are ready to experience "The Arts Advantage" at Creative Arts! It's fun. It's a source for curiosity and imagination. Students of all ages, kids through adults, will please their senses by learning through theatre, music and visual art classes at Creative Arts.

New physiological and behavioral research indicates exposure to and practice in the arts has significant, positive and long term effects on brain development and social-literacy. Training in art, music and theatre not only improves higher cognitive functions but also represents a different way of thinking and experiencing life.

So, what are you waiting for? Take a look at all of the course offerings for kids as young as 1 year old to programming for adults and seniors at www.CreativeArtsForAll.org or call 781.942.9600. Registrations are due September 21st!

Why Theatre?

Acting is much more than reciting memorized lines! It's using imagination and life experiences to create another character. Theatrical training improves communication skills, critical thinking skills, collaboration and team work skills, language processing, and more.

Theatre students consistently test higher in reading comprehension, language mechanics, vocabulary and writing than non-theatre students. Theatre training also teaches emotional intelligence, allowing students to recognize, relate and react to different emotions expressed by themselves or others. Classes range from Movement on Stage for ages 2-9-4 to Advanced Acting for ages 12-16.

Why Music?

Music is perhaps the most prominent cultural and influential art forms. Learning to play and appreciate music is not only an inspirational process but also helps develop mathematical spatial relationships, hand-eye coordination, dexterity, focus and attention, problem-solving skills, and more. Learning to play a musical instrument provides a creative outlet and practicing reinforces responsibility, self accountability and the benefits of hard work.

Private lessons are available for adults and students as young as 3 years old. Instruments include piano, violin, viola, cello, percussion, guitar, voice, clarinet and saxophone. New group experiences are also available, including a new adult class "I Want to Know More: Music History Survey."

Why Visual Arts?

Practice in and exposure to visual arts not only stimulates different parts of the brain but also expands higher cognitive functions like processing mathematical spatial relationships (ie geometry), dexterity and muscle development, confidence, problem solving and critical thinking skills, and more.

Many students find the process of creating art calming and relaxing. Practice in visual arts uses higher-order thinking skills using simple or complex symbols to communicate. Exposure to and practice in visual arts is developmentally important to children and adults by providing advantages in other subjects and life experiences.

Adult offerings include "ABC's of Clay Hand Building," "Wheel Throwing Basics," and "Drawing and Painting Studio." Kid's classes range from "Mini Masters: Exploring Art Together" for ages 1-4 with caregiver to "Advanced Drawing and Painting" for ages 10-13 and "Manga Illustration" for ages 8-18.

This is the perfect opportunity to unplug yourself or your child and open doors to creative expression and awareness.

Call Creative Arts at 781.942.9600 to find out more or to enroll in a class. Or visit the website at www.CreativeArtsForAll.org

About the Towns by Phyllis Nissen

BUILDERS' BLOCKS AND BOOK TALKS

Please check your local "Daily Times Chronicle" for daily updates.

Great expectations in Burlington- "An attorney representing the Nordblom Co. said recently he expects plans for a major redevelopment of Northwest Park will proceed, but at a pace set by economic conditions," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Robert Buckley of the local firm of Riemer & Braunstein said the economic downturn is slowing development plans throughout the Route 128 area, but stated he believes Nordblom will be proceeding with the Planned Development District (PDD) which has been approved for the park."

"The economy is going to dictate where that is going to go," said Buckley.

"In a presentation to the Planning Board in June, Todd Fremont-Smith, vice president, development for Nordblom, said the company will be proceeding with the PDD, but is now looking two to three years down the road. He said the emphasis is now on renewing existing leases."

"Nordblom is planning a mixed-use development with retail and residential use on the southern end of the 127-acre site and Class A office space on the northern end. The property runs between Middlesex Turnpike and Route 3."

On the same hand in Lynnfield- Not quite a walk in the park: a headline in the "Boston Business Journal" notes "National Development puts Meadow Walk on hold."

By the Way... side in Reading- "... the Community Planning and Development Commission (CPDC) closed the hearing on the Site Plan Review of 107 Main Street, Sam's Wayside Bistro, and at the same time approved it, 5-0, with discussed amendments," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times

Chronicle."

"The review had been continued ... as several concerns had arisen. There was an issue about delivery times, which are allowable as early as 6 a.m., and the panel expressed concern about such an early time as this location abuts a residential area."

"After some discussion about that and other considerations, the agreed upon and established delivery hours will be between 7 a.m. and 11 a.m., and then again 1:30 to 4pm, the idea also being to avoid any deliveries during the busy hours of lunch. Delivery trucks will only have one entrance, just like the restaurant's customers, so simultaneous arrival would cause additional problems. Trash removal is strictly between the hours of 7 a.m. and 11 a.m."

"The case of just one means of access to the parking lot by the public was also a focal point of discussion. Originally, the intent was to have one entrance-combined-exit for the public, with the other point of access marked 'emergency exit only,' and possibly blocked by a chain, but it was indicated by the attorney present that Reading's fire chief had been approached and preferred signage stating 'Exit only,' and Reading's Town Engineer, George Zambouras, also concurred. It is not clear that this will fully address the exiting of customers onto Hopkins Street, and then onto Main Street (designated as Right Turn Only) especially in light of drivers tending to enter and exit as they deem most convenient, legal or not."

"The Commission had questioned the validity of a maximum employee count of 10, but this was verified as the most that would be needed. There will be no parking by employees in any adjacent lots as had been discussed... Employees will park in the main lot....

"After rigorous document review and final approval, the commission's Nick Safina said to Sam's Bistro's owner, Mike Palmer, 'Welcome to Reading.'"

"Always of importance in Wilmington, Tewksbury and area residents- Actions on the Governor's somewhat controversial supplemental budget bill would affect several regional systems, including the library, as noted in the Wilmington and Tewksbury "Town Criers."

"...The regional library system is part of the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners and offers cities and towns four valuable services: infrastructure for the delivery of books between libraries all over the state, access to important databases, free training for library staff, and summer reading programs," notes the "Crier."

From 5-2

- but there is enough there to keep most movie patrons smiling and fans of Judge's past work will be satisfied as well.

"THE FINAL DESTINATION" GRADE: **

Death is coming and Alex Browning (Devon Sawa) is blessed with the curse of knowing when, how and where the grim reaper will strike in "The Final Destination", a mediocre horror movie currently in theaters.

Alex's horrific premonition proves accurate. The "Last year alone Massachusetts had more than 100,000 kids involved in summer reading through region supported libraries, according to Celeste Bruno, spokesperson for the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners. According to Tewksbury Public Library Director Jen Hinderer, last year 1,000 kids joined the summer reading program. This year enrollment exceeded 1,000, and so far 1,400 kids have partaken of some kind of event or service at the library this summer."

"Tewksbury and Wilmington are both part of the Northeast Regional Library System"

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867 or to schooltowns@comcast.net.

ill-fated plane explodes in midair. Shocked and confused, the survivors struggle to understand how Alex was able to anticipate the catastrophe.

Some are drawn to him, but most of the group is scared of his gift. As skeptical FBI Agents question his every word, Alex tries to reconcile the tragedy and return to a normal life. Ultimately Alex comes to believe that somehow he and the others cheated death, and as each of them starts to meet an untimely end,

The film tries to recreate the mystery of such hits as "The Sixth Sense," but instead it falls into the category of poorly written, poorly acted B-movies.

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY

TRIVIA: Who was the quarterback that started at Stanford in 1979 ahead of John Elway?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•Five RMHS lacrosse players competed in the very competitive North Shore Lacrosse League at Endicott College this summer. They played on Team Ipswich and successfully won the playoffs and then went on to win the League Championship. The Reading players were very strong contributors to Team Ipswich. They were

KATELYN CARUSO, KEAGAN GALLAGHER, LAUREN COPPOLA, KATE DEBENEDETTO AND KATIE CLEMENTS.

•The University of New Hampshire women's lacrosse team was one of 49 teams cited by the Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association as an Academic Squad in the 2009 season. The IWCA also announced that MICHAELA HARDY (READING) and Sarah Von Bargen (East Setauket, N.Y.) were named to the Academic Honor Roll; both Wildcats are repeat honorees from last season.

Hardy, who graduated with a Psychology degree this past May, was an America East All-Conference First Team and All-Academic Team honoree for the second time in as many years in '09. She ranked second on the team in goals (33) as well as fifth in both points (37) and caused turnovers (15); she also tallied double digits in ground balls. The midfielder recorded a point in 14 of 19 games with 12 multiple-point efforts, including 11 multiple-goal performances. Hardy's season highlights included a five-goal game against Stony Brook University and a five-point (4g, 1a) effort at Binghamton University. She recorded her 100th career point and 100th career goal in the 2009 season.

Teams that have a collective grade-point-average of 3.0 or greater earn the distinction of Academic Squad. UNH was one of four America East teams - along with University at Albany, Binghamton University and University of Vermont - to receive this distinction. The honored student-athletes must have achieved at least junior year status and compiled a minimum GPA of 3.20.

New Hampshire was ranked in every national poll this season and finished with a 12-7 overall record after finishing as runner-up in the America East tournament; the 12 wins are tied for the third-highest single-season total in the program's history.

•Need some help with this week's question? He's now out of a job in the NFL.

•Junior Lyra Clark (Nashua, NH) placed second individually and led the UMass Lowell women's cross country team to second place Saturday at the Keene State College Alumni Invitational.

The host Owls won both the men and women's titles while UMass Lowell was the runner-up in both races.

Clark posted a time of 12:10 in the women's two-mile road race, just one second behind Keene State's Paige Mills, who won the individual title in 12:09.

JUNIOR SARAH BONOMO (TEWKSBURY) placed fifth in 12:27 while freshmen NICOLE SKOTZ (TEWKSBURY), Gina Butler (Dracut, MA) and Kelly Walton (Nahant, MA) placed seventh through ninth.

Skotz ran the course in 12:41 while Butler (12:43) and Walton (12:47) were close behind. Freshman Mary Hazen (Framingham, MA) placed 13th in 13:02.

•The No. 3 River Hawks (5-1, 0-0 NE-10) fell to No. 4 Stonehill in their first loss of the season, a 2-1 non-conference battle, in Easton, Mass. on Thursday night.

The Skyhawks struck first, as COURTNEY FOLEY (WAKEFIELD) scored in the 14th minute of play (13:08), but it wasn't long before the River Hawks knotted the game at one apiece.

•SAMMY MACY, A JUNIOR FROM TEWKSBURY (TEWKSBURY MEMORIAL H.S.) was named the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank Athlete of the Week Wednesday after compiling three of the UMass Lowell field hockey team's five goals in a 2-0 week.

Macy opened the week with one goal in the River Hawks' 3-0 victory over Millersville Friday, and followed with both goals in a 2-0 triumph over No. 3 Indiana (PA) University.

UMass Lowell is currently ranked No. 2 in the latest National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Division II Poll, and meet No. 9 Mansfield Saturday at the University of Scranton.

A criminal justice major, Macy is the daughter of Doug and Mary Macy of Tewksbury, MA.

•Senior F Jeffery Danso (Worcester, MA) scored in the 109th minute to lift the UMass Lowell over No. 15 Dowling College Wednesday afternoon in a non-conference men's soccer season-opener at Cushing Field.

With the victory, the River Hawks improved to 1-0 and enjoy a week hiatus until hosting Dominican College Wednesday at 7:00. Dowling slipped to 1-2 and visit Le Moyne Saturday at 3:00.

As the match seemed destined for a draw, sophomore M Matheus Candido (Lowell, MA) played a volley to JUNIOR F STEPHEN POTCNER (WILMINGTON), who was able to get a touch with his head while being felled in the box. Danso, however, was there for the spoils and easily slotted home for the winner.

•Sophomore Catherine Dowling (Somerville, Mass.) scored the game-winning goal in overtime to lift the Salem State College Lady Vikings to a 2-1 win over Salve Regina Seahawks in non-conference field hockey action.

Dowling scored 6:58 into the overtime period on an assist from Katie LaPrad (Spencer, Mass.) to give Salem State (1-0) the opening day win. Junior goalkeeper Jessica McKenna (Rowley, Mass.) made nine saves for the Vikings, who led for the first 59:01 of the contest before Seahawk freshman and Kelly Burke (Georgetown, Mass.) potted her fourth goal of the season to tie the game at one. The loss evens the Seahawks record at 2-2 on the season.

Junior April Rossetti (Saugus, Mass.) opened the scoring at 8:08 when she collected a pass from classmate KAREN ATKINSON (READING, MASS.) and beat Salve Regina senior goalkeeper Devin Eppley (Darien, Conn.). The Seahawks closed the period outshooting the Vikings (1-0) 6-5 and held a 4-2 edge in penalty corners.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The answer is Turk

Schonert, who was recently fired as the offensive coordinator for the Buffalo Bills.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200.

Theatre To Go's "The Children's Hour" features local residents

WAKEFIELD - Theatre To Go, Inc. is currently rehearsing for its upcoming production of The Children's Hour by Lillian Hellman. This production marks the opening of the groups twelfth season in the community theatre scene and is directed by Megan Najarian.

This play written in 1934 by Lillian Hellman is a drama set in an all-girls boarding school run by two women Karen Wright (Irene Stankard of Lexington) and Martha Dobie (Anny Rosario of Salem). An angry student Mary Tilford (Claire Dickson of Medford), runs away from the school and to avoid being sent back she starts a rumor about the two headmistresses which proceeds to destroy the women's careers, relationships and lives.

This production also features Gregory Luzitano of Beverly, Amy Cook of Woburn, Chris Tinkham of Danvers, Barbara Bourgeois of Andover, Reginald Clermont of Reading, Sami Bucco of Wenham, Alyssa Bene of Lynn, Elsbeth Colson of Everett, Madeleine Carbonneau of Melrose and Marlena Nikosey, Elizabeth Chaput, Melanie Orcutt, all of Wakefield.

The Children's Hour will be presented September 18 & 19 at 8:00pm and September 20 at 2:00pm at the Greenwood Union Church, corner of Oak & Main Streets in Wakefield. Tickets are $15.00 adults, $13.00 students/seniors. All seating is general admission. For tickets, please visit www.theatreto-go.com <<http://www.theatreto-go.com>> or call 781-279-0835.

Practical cooking tips for your traditional latin flavor and your modern lifestyle

The sound of classroom bells and the roar of school buses mark the end of summer and the return of our hectic daily routines. Hispanic traditions can live on in our modern day lifestyle both in the kitchen and at the dining room table. With easy to use products, even the kids can help prepare unforgettable dishes while you share stories about your family and ancestors. Cooking with the kids is a fun way to help them to develop their skills: reading, addition, measurements and fractions, multiplication and even problem solving.

The following recipes can be used to prepare a tasty, nutritious and easy to cook traditional dish.

CUBAN PICADILLO

(Makes 4 servings)

- 3 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 1 large potato, peeled and coarsely chopped
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 cup chopped ham
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 large green bell pepper, chopped
- 1 tablespoon chopped garlic
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup pimiento-stuffed Spanish olives, cut in half
- 2 MAGGI(R) Beef Flavor Bouillon Cubes (4 grams each), crumbled
- 2 tablespoons tomato sauce
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon white vinegar
- Hot, cooked rice
- 4 sunny-side-up eggs (optional)

Heat bacon drippings in large skillet over medium-high heat. Add potato; cook, stirring occasionally, for 5 to 6 minutes or until browned. Remove from skillet; set aside.

Cook beef in skillet over medium-high heat until no longer pink; drain. Stir in ham, onion, bell pepper and garlic; cook, stirring occasionally, for 8 minutes or until onion is tender. Stir in potato, raisins, olives, MAGGI(R) Bouillon Cubes, tomato sauce, cumin, oregano and vinegar.

Serve over rice. Top with egg.

Garlic, onion and tomato are indispensable ingredients in our cooking. They give each recipe a unique flavor, and complement our daily supply of vegetables. Today their use is very simple. MAGGI(R), aware of the challenges facing today's cooks in the kitchen, has excellent bouillon products in a variety of formats and flavors: tablets, cubes and powder in chicken, beef, and chicken with tomato flavor. It's an indispensable cooking aid to give a touch of rich flavor to any dish.

BLACK BEAN SOUP

(Makes 4 to 5 servings)

- 2 tablespoons Caribbean jerk seasoning blend
- 4 cans (15 or 16 oz. each) black beans, drained
- 2 1/2 cups water
- 1/3 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup fresh lime juice

- 1 MAGGI(R) Chicken Flavor Bouillon Tablet (11 grams), crumbled

- NESTLE, Media Crema

- Chopped red onion

- Lime wedges

Toast seasoning blend in large, heavy saucepan over medium heat for 3 minutes or until fragrant and slightly darker in color. Remove from heat.

Pour seasoning blend, beans, water, oil, lime juice and MAGGI(R) bouillon tablet in food processor or blender (in batches, if necessary). Cover; process until almost smooth.

Pour mixture back into saucepan; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until heated through and thickened. Season with salt, if desired.

Top with NESTLE(R) Media Crema and onion. Serve with lime wedges. Latin American food, like our countries and people, are full of variety and rich flavor. With the help of cooking aids used throughout Latin America, it's easy to prepare foods that will please the entire family. Call the Consumer Services line at 1-800-258-6727 for MAGGI product information and retail distributors in your neighborhood.

Build muscle to burn fat

Tip of the Week : Build Muscle to Burn Fat

Toning and building muscle through exercise can turn your body into a fat-burning machine. There are numerous studies with the facts and figures on this. It appears that adding one additional pound of muscle to your body can burn 30-90 more calories per day, while you are at rest. A pound of fat only burns 2-4 calories in the same time frame. Think of how many more calories you can burn by simply putting on five more pounds of muscle.

To add muscle tissue you must force the body to add it. You can't just add a pound of muscle because you followed a 3-set workout that you read about in a fitness magazine. You need to give the body a reason to add muscle tissue. You have to provide a "stimulus." You can do this in various ways. Basically, you need to subject your body to levels of stress it isn't used to. You can do this by slowly increasing the variables in the exercises you do.

Increase the weight or resistance

Do more repetitions

Do more sets

Move the weight or resistance slower

Rest less between sets and exercises

At 62 years, I lost 30 pounds and dropped 4 pant sizes and lost 10.4% body fat in just 12 weeks.

I am 62 years old and during my 12 week body transformation program at Get In Shape For Women I have lost a total of 30 pounds and dropped four pant sizes! Not to mention that I have also been able to lose over 15 inches and 10% body fat. I will continue to tone up, perhaps lose more weight and most importantly learn the behaviors necessary for a healthy lifestyle. I have done the health club with 'classes,' the diet groups with weekly weigh-ins, but I have never combined constantly modified weight training, weekly nutrition lessons and the knowledge and encouragement of such a well trained staff as here at Get In Shape For Women. The comments and atmosphere are always positive. Mike, Gina and Jess acknowledge each milestone on our way to our goal. Clients' names are displayed applauding each level of weight loss; though maybe a bit childish, it makes us all smile and push harder. We laugh and struggle with each other. This camaraderie is not found at larger gyms. Weight loss programs offer the applause but not the toning and firming. It is all here. The trainers offer the do's and don'ts of both muscles and menus and the ratio of trainers to clients is 1 to 4 or less. This ensures that each member is properly instructed, encouraged and shown the best workout for them including weight training, cardio and diet. I am very pleased with my program and will continue to Get In Shape!
